Won't Discuss Lull in War, Diplomats Say

PARIS (AP) — U.S. efforts to find out in some official way whether the lull in Communist attacks in South Vietnam is intended by North Vietnam as a peace gesture apparently have bogged down.

American officials at the Paris peace talks say that as far as they are concerned the question is still open. But they now put major emphasis on their contention that North Vietnam is preparing for an offensive by pouring troops and military supplies into the South at a high rate. "The disposition of the North Vietnamese forces indicates that major military attacks are in preparation," U.S. spokesman William J. Jordan told a news conference Wednesday after the weekly session of the talks.

"If North Vietnam wished to convey to us some meaning (about the purpose of the lull), they could do so readily, directly or indirectly, and so far we have had no indication whatsoever."

Jordan did not say whether U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman has ever asked Ambassador Xuan Thuy or his deputies whether the lull has significance. U.S. officials say the question has not been put directly in any of the formal sessions, but they decline to say whether it has been raised in private conversation with the North Vietnamese during the coffee breaks at the meetings.

Nguyen Thanh Le, the North Vietnamese spokesman, declined to be drawn into discussion of the issue. When he was asked whether it came up in the 22-minute coffee break Wednesday, he said he only had time to drink tea. To another query on the same subject he said: "The United States continues to intensify the war in Vietnam."

Le at his news conference kept hammering at the point that "we are going to keep insisting" that the United States must stop bombing and "all other acts of war" against the territory of North Vietnam before anything else can be accomplished in the Paris talks.

Probe Copter Crash Fatal to 21 Persons

Ground Action Is Minimal For 2nd Day

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Twenty-one persons — many of them looking forward to a Disneyland visit — were killed Wednesday in a helicopter crash similar to one that took 23 lives in this area last May.

It was the second worst commercial helicopter disaster in the United States. The worst, the crash of another twin-turbine Sikorsky S61L copter owned by the Los Angeles firm, occurred at nearby Paramount in May, killing 23.

The company suspended all flights. Witnesses told Federal Aviation Administration investigators they saw a tail rotor fly off, as preceded the May tragedy.

FAA experts began gathering the strewn wreckage to see if a reason for the crash could be determined. Cause of the May 22 disaster still remains a mystery.

Aboard the craft that crashed Wednesday were a crew of three men and 18 passengers.

Witnesses said they heard a "thump, thump, thump" as the helicopter fell earthward. Others described a loud "popping noise" followed by a rapid plunge and an explosion on impact.

The helicopter took off at 10:25 a.m. and was due at the Disneyland heliport at 10:41 a.m. It slammed to earth 12 minutes after takeoff while 30 children played about 200 feet away. No one on the ground was injured.

In the May tragedy, the copter went down 11 minutes after takeoff in a Paramount dairy farm 2 1/2 miles east of Wednesday's crash. It was en route from Disneyland to Los Angeles.

Kenneth Hahn, a Los Angeles County supervisor, demanded that the FBI be called in. Similarities between Wednesday's crash and the May disaster, he said, suggested "this could be a man-made accident as well as or instead of mechanical failure."

Jonathan Dollar, 48, said the pilot tried to the end to keep the copter airborne. "God bless that man," he said.

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnam's southern panhandle with renewed fury Wednesday after a day in which tropical storm Rose prevented American aircraft carriers from launching a single mission.

With the three 7th Fleet carriers in the Tonkin Gulf back in action, American pilots flew 105 missions against supply lines in North Vietnam, more than triple the 31 missions flown Tuesday by land-based planes. That had been the lowest number in more than two years.

America's biggest bombers, the Air Force B52s, roared over North Vietnam today for the second time this week to attack troop concentrations, artillery and antiaircraft sites. Two flights of the eight-jet Stratofortresses, with at least three bombers in each wave, struck from just above the demilitarized zone to 5 1/2 miles inside North Vietnam.

The B52s have concentrated recently on trying to blunt the expected third Viet Cong offensive against Saigon and other South Vietnamese cities.

For the second day in a row, no significant ground actions were reported in the war. But American reconnaissance pilots spotted a complex of deserted Viet Cong factories Wednesday, including munitions plants, in the Mekong Delta 73 miles west-southwest of Saigon. U.S. helicopters landed South Viet-resting on top of another boxcar. Then railroad wrecking crews righted all seven cars and had set four back on the rails by late Wednesday night. Authorities decided at 11 p.m. that the danger was past and lifted the evacuation order for all but the immediate vicinity of the derailment.

Railroad officials said the Tuesday night derailment occurred when the 35th car of the 100-car train jumped the tracks and pulled 16 other cars off with it.

No one was injured as the cars bounced along the right-of-way, with several careening into a railroad overpass and piling up.

More than 1,000 feet of track was torn up, but officials said they expected to have the area clear sometime today. The derailed cars, including the six still containing artillery shells, then will be rolled out of the area.

FAILED TO STOP — Failure to stop at the intersection of Routes 56 and 159 by two motorists Wednesday resulted in the death of a 77-year-old woman in an accident at 3:40 p.m. (top photo) and injuries to three persons about four hours later (bottom photo). Sheriff Dwight Radcliff is seen holding the stop sign knocked down in the second crash.

Two Crashes in 4 Hours

One Dead, Four Injured At Double Accident Site

Two accidents, one fatal, occurred within four hours of each other at the intersection of Route 56 and State Route 159 Wednesday.

Killed in the first accident at 3:40 p.m. was a 77-year-old New Lexington woman identified as Mrs. Lottie Kokenesparger Loughman.

Mrs. Loughman, driver of the first car, was dead on arrival at Berger Hospital. Cause of death, according to authorities, was a broken neck. Clyde Stinard, 41, Route 1, Laurelvale, driver of the other car, suffered minor abrasions, contusions and lacerations.

FOUR hours later at the same location, an accident involving a Circleville area woman critically injured a New York man.

Orient Woman Killed in Crash

An Orient area woman was killed and five others were injured in a two car collision on Route 665 near the Madison-Franklin County line Wednesday night.

Victim of the accident was identified as Mrs. Mary Lou Whitson, 31, Route 1, Orient. She was dead on arrival at Madison County Hospital, London.

Cause of death was listed as a skull fracture and brain injury by Dr. William Bacon, county coroner.

Listed in critical condition is Douglas Whitson, 4, who was transferred from Madison County to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, for treatment of a skull fracture, broken leg and possible internal bleeding.

Kenneth Whitson, 32, Route 1, Orient, was also listed in critical condition at University Hospital where he was taken for treatment of severe head and facial injuries.

Clinton Whitson, 33, driver of the death vehicle and husband of the victim, was treated and released from Madison County Hospital, as was his 12-year old daughter, Cathy.

John Harris, 36, London, driver of the other car, received minor injuries and was dismissed from the Madison Hospital.

The accident occurred about three miles west of Darbydale in Madison County.

The Whitson vehicle was northbound on Kiousville-Georgesville Road and the Harris car, with John Harris the only occupant, was westbound on State Route 665, according to the London Post of the State Highway Patrol.

The patrol reported that Whitson disregarded a stop sign and was struck in the side by the Harris car. The impact demolished both cars.

Miss Faulk was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment of severe facial lacerations and Wandersman was transferred from Berger to University Hospital for treatment of back and chest injuries.

Chicago Gang Chief Sentenced

CHICAGO (AP) — The leader of the Blackstone Rangers street gang, Eugene Hairston, 24, has been sentenced to three concurrent terms of 5 to 15 years in prison for solicitation of murder.

Judge Louis A. Wexler imposed the sentence Wednesday in Circuit Court after hearing a South Side businessman and a clergyman appeal that Hairston remain free.

"You were the leader in a crime which to say the least was a vicious one," said Judge Wexler.

Hairston was convicted May 29 of paying six teen-agers $1 each to shoot three men sitting in a parked car Sept. 12, 1967. Leo McClure, 33, was killed and two companions were wounded.

Medical Test Reports Fail To Faze LBJ

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Whatever doctors told President Johnson in their report on recent elaborate medical tests, it's causing him no apparent public concern.

Johnson, understood to have gotten the gist of the report in the last day or two, looked ruddy and rested and was in his bounciest form Wednesday when he made his first speech-making appearance of the month.

At times he even sounded like the candidate for re-election he's vowed not to be.

Disclosure last week that Johnson is afflicted with a chronic intestinal ailment, diverticulosis, prompted some concern about the state of his health. Unease was not allayed when he went to San Antonio's Brooke Army Medical Center Monday for further tests or when the White House firmly refused to rule out surgery as a possibility.

Diverticulosis is not disabling and Johnson's doctors hastened to emphasize he was suffering no discomfort. However, the ailment can develop into something more serious—when inflammation occurs—and in that form sometimes requires surgery.

Clifford Sees No Cutback In Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today the United States will not cut back the bombing of North Vietnam until the administration can work out some arrangement with the North Vietnamese which would protect American servicemen near enemy territory.

Clifford said the bombing restriction authorized by President Johnson March 31 allowed for strikes against the enemy above the demilitarized zone so U.S. and allied forces in that area would not be jeopardized.

"I think that reason still holds," the defense chief told a news conference.

Clifford said he felt that without some agreement with the North Vietnamese, the current bombing limitation is a "reasonable and logical approach."

At the same time, Clifford said the United States still awaits a "clear signal" from Hanoi that the recent lull in fighting in South Vietnam is North Vietnam's response to President Johnson's bombing cutback.

Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon also is preparing to return home—New York City—from San Diego and he plans his first series of campaign appearances as the GOP candidate along the way.

Soviets Seek To Undercut U.S. Network of Satellites

VIENNA (AP) — Is the Soviet Union seriously challenging the giant Intelsat space communications network with its proposal to establish a global network of communications satellites? Or is it putting pressure on Intelsat to substitute a one-country, one-vote policy for American domination?

Several hundred space experts from 73 other nations studied the Russians' Intersputnik plan today at the second session of the U.N. Conference on Exploration and Peaceful Uses of Outer Space. Most interpreted the move as a pressure play, with the Russians using the United Nations as a forum.

The Soviets made their proposal at the conference's opening session Wednesday in a message from Premier Alexei Kosygin. His note, read by the leader of the Soviet delegation, A.A. Blagoravov, wished the conference success and said:

"In order to better satisfy the needs of the developed and developing countries, the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries are proposing the creation of an international communications system through artificial satellites based on democratic principles with total equality for all its participants."

Pueblo Crew Makes Appeal

Urge Apology, Koreas Claim

TOKYO (AP) — North Korea said today the 82 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo have issued a second joint appeal for help to obtain their release.

The North Korean Central News Agency said the ship's captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher of Lincoln, Neb., issued the appeal Tuesday at a news conference attended by 24 other crewmen.

The Pueblo's crew has been in captivity since Jan. 23, when the North Koreans seized the ship off Wonsan, a North Korean port. North Korea claimed the Pueblo violated its territorial waters and said the crew would be released after the United States apologizes and promises to guard against such incidents.

The United States denies that the ship trespassed in North Korean waters.

The North Korean agency said Bucher explained the crew requested the news conference to "appeal to the people of the United States to urge our government to take appropriate action to enable us to return home."

The agency last March reported the crew had appealed jointly to President Johnson to apologize to win their release. Since then, North Korea has broadcast scores of statements attributed to the crewmen admitting that the Pueblo violated North Korean waters.

Blast Threat Over; Urbana Residents Return to Homes

URBANA, Ohio (AP) — An evacuation order was lifted and National Guard troops were pulled out of Urbana's near northwest side Wednesday night after workmen set seven derailed railroad ammunition cars back on their wheels.

Authorities had evacuated a half-mile area surrounding the Penn Central Railroad freight train derailment after it was learned that seven of the 17 cars that left the tracks contained 105mm howitzer shells.

Munitions experts brought in from the Clinton County Air Force Base near Wilmington and from Joliet, Ill., recommended that none of the piled up cars be moved until all precautions were taken in the event of an explosion.

Guardmen assisted in the evacuation and barricading of streets in the area.

Railroad workers, volunteers and guardsmen Wednesday unloaded one of the ammunition cars by hand because it was resting on top of another boxcar.

Then railroad wrecking crews righted all seven cars and had set four back on the rails by late Wednesday night.

Authorities decided at 11 p.m. that the danger was past and lifted the evacuation order for all but the immediate vicinity of the derailment.

No one was injured as the cars bounced along the right-of-way, with several careening into a railroad overpass and piling up.

More than 1,000 feet of track was torn up, but officials said they expected to have the area clear sometime today. The derailed cars, including the six still containing artillery shells, then will be rolled out of the area.

Ground Action Is Minimal For 2nd Day

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnam's southern panhandle with renewed fury Wednesday after a day in which tropical storm roses prevented American aircraft carriers from launching a single mission.

With the three 7th Fleet carriers in the Tonkin Gulf back in action, American pilots flew 105 missions against supply lines in North Vietnam, more than triple the 31 missions flown Tuesday by land-based planes. That had been the lowest number in more than two years.

America's biggest bombers, the Air Force B52s, roared over North Vietnam today for the second time this week to attack troop concentrations, artillery and antiaircraft sites. Two flights of the eight-jet Stratofortresses, with at least three bombers in each wave, struck from just above the demilitarized zone to 5½ miles inside North Vietnam.

The B52s have concentrated recently on trying to blunt the expected third Viet Cong offensive against Saigon and other South Vietnamese cities.

For the second day in a row, no significant ground actions were reported in the war. Pueblo Crew Makes Appeal

Urge Apology, Koreds Claim

TOKYO (AP) — North Korea said today the 82 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo have issued a second joint appeal for help to obtain their release.

The North Korean Central News Agency said the ship's captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher of Lincoln, Neb., issued the appeal Tuesday at a news conference attended by 24 other crewmen.

The Pueblo's crew has been in captivity since Jan. 23, when the North Koreans seized the ship off Wonsan, a North Korean port. North Korea claimed the Pueblo violated its territorial waters and said the crew would be released after the United States apologizes and promises to guard against such incidents.

The United States denies that the ship trespassed in North Korean waters.

The North Korean agency said Bucher explained the crew requested the news conference to "appeal to the people of the United States to urge our government to take appropriate action to enable us to return home."

The agency last March reported the crew had appealed jointly to President Johnson to apologize to win their release. Since then, North Korea has broadcast scores of statements attributed to the crewmen admitting that the Pueblo violated North Korean waters.

McGovern Given Harding's Room

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. George McGovern, late entrant in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, has been assigned the "smoke filled room" Warren G. Harding occupied when he was nominated at the 1920 republican convention.

During the 1920 convention, Harding's campaign manager predicted accurately that his candidate would be nominated in a "smoke filled room." The room is in the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel.

The Democratic National Convention opens Aug. 26 in Chicago.

HHH, Agnew Outline Law and Order Views

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today no one wants law and order more than the nation's law-abiding Negroes and poor—but he said better law enforcement should mean liberation, not repression. Negroes and poor people want better enforcement against major crime including murder, rape and robbery because they are its most frequent victims, the Democratic presidential contender said. His prepared remarks were for a Newark, N.J., luncheon this afternoon.

Republican vice presidential nominee Spiro T. Agnew said Wednesday law and order should not be confused with the civil rights issue.

"There is no inconsistency," the Maryland governor said on returning home, "in being for civil rights and against violence."

Discounting reports he was selected the GOP vice presidential nominee to appeal to Southern voters, Agnew said:

"My record speaks for itself. I am not a racist. I have never been a racist. I have done more for the Negro than anyone who has ever held this office. Any kind of racism must be repudiated."

Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon also is preparing to return home—New York City—from San Diego and he plans his first series of campaign appearances as the GOP candidate along the way.

Aides say Nixon will make a public appearance in Springfield, Ill., Monday morning. He also plans appearances in Lansing, Mich., Harrisburg, Pa., and probably one other city on the two-day trip from San Diego beginning Sunday.

Nixon also has scheduled party-harmony meetings with Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania during the trip.

On the Democratic side, Sen. George S. McGovern said in Cherry Hill, N.J., he would accept the vice presidential nomination if it were offered at the Democratic National Convention. But he said he would rather be re-elected a senator from South Dakota if he does not win the party's presidential nomination.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy proposed a national housing policy that would help minority groups rebuild their central city neighborhoods, and make it possible for them to live in suburbs near the centers of new jobs.

Selassie Seeks Cease-Fire Between Nigeria, Biafra

By C. C. MINICLIER

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie has called on Nigeria's chief of state, Gen. Yakubu Gowon, to declare a cease-fire while peace talks with rebel Biafra are going on in the Ethiopian capital, diplomatic sources said today.

Selassie also invited Gowon and Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, Biafra's chief of state, to come to Addis Ababa for a face-to-face session next Monday, the informants said. Ojukwu announced last week that Biafra would observe a truce during the talks.

The emperor made his proposals as Nigerian troops were reported advancing in a pincer movement toward Aba, the temporary Biafran capital.

The informants said Selassie also asked the other members of the consultative committee of Nigeria of the Organization of African Unity to come here for the meeting Monday. They are the heads of state of Niger, Ghana, Liberia and Congo-Kinshasa.

The moves by the emperor, who is chairman of the OAU committee sponsoring the talks, came as the deadlocked parley entered its 11th day with no sign of progress toward an end to the war.

Both sides denied published reports that agreement has been reached on ways of speeding relief to starving Biafran civilians.

A high officer said a commando column led by Col. Benjamin Adekunle had crossed the Ibo River 15 miles south of Aba and occupied Akwete, a settlement on the northern bank. The lead column of the other pincer was believed across the river at the Ibo railway station, 22 miles from the city.

The drive appeared aimed at bringing the 13-month-old secession of eastern Nigeria's Ibo tribesmen to a quick military end. But the Biafran leader, Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, has pledged that his people will retreat into the bush and wage guerrilla warfare.

An estimated 6,000 troops from Nigeria's 3rd Marine Division were reported committed to the attack on Aba. The city some 40 miles inland is the largest of the three major towns still in rebel hands.

Old-Time Dillinger Gunman Given 'Near-Death' Parole

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The crime era of the 1930s was recalled today with announcement that Gov. James A. Rhodes has approved an imminent-dangere-of-death release for Russell Clark, 70, last of the John Dillinger gunmen.

The governor was informed by prison physicians that Clark has lung cancer and has six months to live.

Clark had been given a life sentence in the slaying of Sheriff Jess Sarber of Allen County Dec. 26, 1933, when gang members raided the jail and released their leader, Dillinger, later to go on a long crime spree of murder and robbery before being shot down by FBI agents in Chicago.

Dillinger had been held in the Lima jail on a bank robbery charge, after his arrest in Dayton. He and some of his gang members had also been wanted in Clark County for a New Carlisle holdup.

Two members of the gang tried along with Clark were sentenced to death.

A sister has taken Clark to Hazel Park, Mich., where he will stay under parole supervision until he dies. Under Ohio law, he must be returned to Ohio if he doesn't die in six months.

Clark entered Ohio Penitentiary in March, 1934, and served more than 34 years. He had parole hearings in previous years but each time the commission turned him down.

Charles Markley, Harry Pierpont and other gunmen helped Clark in the Dillinger escape, and the first two went to the penitentiary death row. Pierpont was identified as the actual trigger man in the sheriff's slaying.

Later Markley was slain by prison guards when he tried to break out of death row with a mock gun, made from soap and wood. Pierpont, who was wounded in the same escape attempt, went to his death in the penitentiary electric chair in October, 1934, carried there on a stretcher.

Stephen Smith Linked to Hoffa Conspiracy Case

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Stephen Smith, a brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy, has been named in a federal court petition as the man who provided $3,000 to get evidence against an attorney for James R. Hoffa.

Maclin P. Davis, attorney for Z. T. Osborn Jr., filed a motion Wednesday asking that Smith of New York be required to testify at a federal court hearing here on Monday.

The motion for subpoena said Smith provided $3,000 which government investigator Walter Sheridan paid to a former Nashville policeman for information on Osborn. However, Sheridan took back the money a day later, the petition said.

Traffic Accidents Claim 11 Lives across State

by a driver entering the intersection from Route 159 failing to yield the right of way, according to Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

In the first accident, which took the life of the New Lexington woman, Clyde Stinard of Laurelville was eastbound on Route 56. The vehicle driven by the New Lexington resident, Lottie Loughman, northbound on Route 159, failed to stop at the stop sign, striking the Stinard vehicle in the side.

Stinard, who reported that he has driven Route 56 to work for 20 years without an accident, told sheriff's deputies that he slowed to 30 miles an hour because he knew how dangerous the intersection is. His slow speed was credited by authorities with saving his life.

Impact of the collision spun the Stinard car around in the intersection while the Loughman vehicle traveled 333 feet before coming to a rest in a farm fence. Mrs. Loughman was returning from an annual trip to Florida.

In the second accident, Leatrice Faulk was also eastbound on Route 56 when the Wandersman vehicle failed to yield the right of way and struck the Faulk car in the side, according to the sheriff's department.

Wandersman was cited by the sheriff for failure to yield the right of way.

Plans were made for modernization of volunteer fire department facilities in a meeting of New Holland Village Council and the boards of trustees of Marion Twp. in Fayette and Perry Twp. in Pickaway Counties Tuesday.

The basic need, agreed upon by representatives of three areas served by the New Holland Volunteers, is a new tanker-pumper truck. The group feels they could be accommodated with equipment costing around $25,000.

It was decided that it would not be practical to get a stripped down truck since it would have to serve many years, nor to get one more elaborate and expensive than necessary.

Woodrow Workman, representing Marion Twp., Delbert Remy from Perry Twp., and Dale Funk and Ray Stewart of the Council are probably committed to investigate the possibilities of obtaining a new truck.

IT WAS pointed out that Perry Twp. now has funds to cover one-third of the cost of the truck, but that Marion Twp. and New Holland would have to work through special levies.

Other problems discussed during the meeting Tuesday included training of firemen to prevent an increase in insurance rates, finding an approved agency to provide the training and persuading the volunteers to take the course.

Clark Defends His Record Against Charges by Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark has responded to Richard M. Nixon's threat to fire him if elected president by challenging Nixon to say what he means by the phrase "law and order."

In his speech accepting the Republican nomination last week, Nixon said "if we are going to restore order and respect for law in this country, there is one place to begin. We are going to have to have a new attorney general."

"The question is," Clark responded in a news conference Wednesday, "What do we do to bring about order under the law?"

"I think for the people to just repeat the phrase 'law and order' is not to educate anyone on the issues or on what needs to be done," Clark added.

He said it was important for Nixon to make his stance known on these issues, rather than saying "whom he is against."

Within hours after Clark's

comments, the Nixon camp fired back from its campaign strategy base in California.

Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's national political director, said Clark's "record of performance in office marks him down as a reluctant warrior in the battle against crime."

Clark, meeting with newsmen in his oak paneled, red carpeted outer office, answered a wide variety of questions ranging from the nomination of Abe For-

as chief justice of the United States—he defended it—to police pay—he thinks it should be increased.

But Clark dwelt on the acceptance speech by Nixon, publicly answering it for the first time.

Nixon, Clark said, attacked "personalities rather than principles."

The attorney general set forth some of his own principles and wondered aloud where Nixon stood on them.

Report Labor Cuts Off Gilligan

NEW YORK (AP)—Organized labor has cut off campaign funds to John J. Gilligan, the Democratic Senate candidate in Ohio, following a complaint from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey that Gilligan was not supporting his bid for the presidential nomination. The New York Times said today.

In addition, the Times said, pro-Humphrey delegates from Ohio, led by labor officials on the delegation, have forced the state's Democratic National Convention delegation to hold a caucus and list their preferences for the nomination.

The story also said in part: The caucus was held on Monday over the opposition of Gilligan; the state chairman, Eugene P. O'Grady, and other delegates who want to remain uncommitted until the convention opens in Chicago on Aug. 26.

The two incidents, according to informed observers, show that Humphrey has "lost his cool," as one put it, and is using every political weapon he has to put pressure on wavering delegates.

Gilligan attended the caucus but was not present when the delegates expressed a preference of presidential candidates on a roll call.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey was the preference of 68 delegates who have a total of 60 votes; Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota received three votes and Sen. Stephen M. Young, Ohio's favorite son candidate, received one vote.

Others among the 126 delegates who have 113 votes were either absent or non-committal. Two of Ohio's allotted 128 delegates with 115 votes are deceased.

The decision of whether to conduct such a roll call caused a heated discussion among persons in the caucus. The question arose early in the evening meeting and after a discussion of perhaps a half-hour the question was tabled temporarily on a 52-41 vote.

At least two motions to adjourn were defeated or put aside before the candidate preference issue was taken up again at the end of the meeting.

National Committeeman Albert Porter of Cleveland, who was named permanent chairman of the delegation, claimed after the vote was announced that he had five proxy votes from absentees from Humphrey.

Miss Betty Jane Gaffney of Toledo, nominated by the delegation as National Committeewoman, sought to have Porter announce his total of the preference vote to newsmen.

Rains Roll Over Wide Area of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Showers and thunderstorms damped wide areas of the country Thursday and erupted into occasional downpours over the Central Plains.

Rainfalls around 1½ inches soaked parts of Kansas and Nebraska before dawn in showers which extended eastward into Missouri, Iowa and Illinois. But these amounts were light compared with cloudbursts that hit portions of eastern Colorado late Wednesday.

Five inches of rain poured down on Sterling, Colo., in a short time. Several thunderstorms also lashed some sections of the state with hail and strong winds.

Below-normal chilliness hung onto the Great Lakes region. Temperatures moderated somewhat over the Northern Plains following record lows in the 30s early Wednesday in North Dakota.

Pellston, at the north tip of lower Michigan, registered 37 degrees early today.

UC officials made special arrangements with Harvard to have Ahlers' first year there counted toward completion of a Baccalaureate Degree and Ahlers wanted to reward UC.

Two members of the gang tried along with Clark were sentenced to death.

A sister has taken Clark to Hazel Park, Mich., where he will stay under parole supervision until he dies. Under Ohio law, he must be returned to Ohio if he doesn't die in six months.

Clark entered Ohio Penitentiary in March, 1934, and served more than 34 years. He had parole hearings in previous years but each time the commission turned him down.

Charles Makley, Harry Pierpont and other gunmen helped Clark in the Dillinger escape, and the first two went to the penitentiary death row. Pierpont was identified as the actual trigger man in the sheriff's slaying.

Later Markley was slain by prison guards when he tried to break out of death row with a mock gun, made from soap and wood. Pierpont, who was wounded in the same escape attempt, went to his death in the penitentiary electric chair in October, 1934, carried there on a stretcher.

Stephen Smith Linked to Hoffa Conspiracy Case

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Stephen Smith, a brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy, has been named in a federal court petition as the man who provided $3,000 to get evidence against an attorney for James R. Hoffa.

Maclin P. Davis, attorney for Z. T. Osborn Jr., filed a motion Wednesday asking that Smith of New York be required to testify at a federal court hearing here on Monday.

The motion for subpoena said Smith provided $3,000 which government investigator Walter Sheridan paid to a former Nashville policeman for information on Osborn. However, Sheridan took back the money a day later, the petition said.

Traffic Accidents Claim 11 Lives across State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents in Ohio during the past 24 hours have taken a heavy toll of lives—three of the victims in one accident near Hillsboro.

The dead: Joseph E. Parker, 48, of Midland, Clinton County.

Raymond C. Conner, 57, of Blanchester.

Mrs. Jeanette Conner, 57, of Blanchester.

Mrs. Clinton C. Whitson of Rt. 1, Orient.

by a driver entering the intersection from Route 159 failing to yield the right of way, according to Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

In the first accident, which took the life of the New Lexington woman, Clyde Stinard of Laureville was eastbound on Route 56. The vehicle driven by the New Lexington resident, Lottie Loughman, northbound on Route 159, failed to stop at the stop sign, striking the Stinard vehicle in the side.

STINARD, who reported that he has driven Route 56 to work for 20 years without an accident, told sheriff's deputies that he slowed to 30 miles an hour because he knew how dangerous the intersection is. His slow speed was credited by authorities with saving his life.

Impact of the collision spun the Stinard car around in the intersection while the Loughman vehicle traveled 333 feet before coming to a rest in a farm fence. Mrs. Loughman was returning from an annual trip to Florida.

In the second accident, Leatrice Faulk was also eastbound on Route 56 when the Wandersman vehicle failed to yield the right of way and struck the Faulk car in the side, according to the sheriff's department.

Wandersman was cited by the sheriff for failure to yield the right of way.

HHH Would Like A Little More Help from LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today denied the White House was managing the affairs of the Democratic National Convention. He said President Johnson was remaining neutral and that he'd like to see a little neutrality in favor of his candidacy.

"The President's neutrality is a neutrality, may I say, that at times is a little difficult even for me. After all, I do have to carry some of the burden of presenting the administration's case and I'd kind of like a little extra help," Humphrey said.

Asked if he would like the President to be a little more neutral in Humphrey's favor, the vice president replied: "That would be fine. I mean, yes. I mean you've asked an honest question and I give you an honest answer."

Lawyer Leaves Stock to UC

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati went out of its way 49 years ago to help an aspiring law student and the man certainly remembered the gesture.

Clifford E. Ahlers, a California lawyer who died last April, bequeathed the university 15,300 shares of Procter & Gamble stock worth $1.5 million.

Ahlers wanted to attend Harvard Law School, but although he had completed three years at UC he did not have an undergraduate degree and could not enter. UC officials made special arrangements with Harvard to have Ahlers' first year there counted toward completion of a Baccalaureate Degree and Ahlers wanted to reward UC.

French To Test Hydrogen Bomb

PARIS (AP) — The French probably will test their first hydrogen bomb this weekend at Mururoa, in the South Pacific, Agence France Press reported today in a dispatch from Tahiti.

Tahiti Radio has been warning ships and airplanes to stay away from the area starting Saturday, but favorable winds will be needed for the test, the agency said.

The broadcasts specified a larger danger area than for previous French nuclear tests—120 nautical miles around Mururoa instead of 100. Mururoa is an atoll about 700 miles southeast of Tahiti.

New Holland Firemen Need New Truck

Plans were made for modernization of volunteer fire department facilities in a meeting of New Holland Village Council and the boards of trustees of Marion Twp. in Fayette and Perry Twp. in Pickaway Counties Tuesday.

The basic need, agreed upon by representatives of three areas served by the New Holland Volunteers, is a new tanker-pumper truck. The group feels they could be accommodated with equipment costing around $25,000.

It was decided that it would not be practical to get a stripped down truck since it would have to serve many years, nor to get one more elaborate and expensive than necessary.

Woodrow Workman, representing Marion Twp., Delbert Remy from Perry Twp., and Dale Funk and Ray Stewart of the Council are probably committed to investigate the possibilities of obtaining a new truck.

IT WAS pointed out that Perry Twp. now has funds to cover one-third of the cost of the truck, but that Marion Twp. and New Holland would have to work through special levies.

Other problems discussed during the meeting Tuesday included training of firemen to prevent an increase in insurance rates, finding an approved agency to provide the training and persuading the volunteers to take the course.

Clark Defends His Record Against Charges by Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark has responded to Richard M. Nixon's threat to fire him if elected president by challenging Nixon to say what he means by the phrase "law and order."

In his speech accepting the Republican nomination last week, Nixon said "if we are going to restore order and respect for law in this country, there is one place to begin. We are going to have to have a new attorney general."

"The question is," Clark responded in a news conference Wednesday, "What do we do to bring about order under the law?"

"I think for the people to just repeat the phrase 'law and order' is not to educate anyone on the issues or on what needs to be done," Clark added.

He said it was important for Nixon to make his stance known on these issues, rather than saying "whom he is against."

Within hours after Clark's

comments, the Nixon camp fired back from its campaign strategy base in California.

Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's national political director, said Clark's "record of performance in office marks him down as a reluctant warrior in the battle against crime."

Clark, meeting with newsmen in his oak paneled, red carpeted outer office, answered a wide variety of questions ranging from the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice of the United States—he defended it—to police pay—he thinks it should be increased.

But Clark dwelt on the acceptance speech by Nixon, publicly answering it for the first time. "Nixon, Clark said, attacked 'personalities rather than principles.'"

The attorney general set forth some of his own principles and wondered aloud where Nixon stood on them.

Report Labor Cuts Off Gilligan

NEW YORK (AP)—Organized labor has cut off campaign funds to John J. Gilligan, the Democratic Senate candidate in Ohio, following a complaint from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey that Gilligan was not supporting his bid for the presidential nomination. The New York Times said today.

In addition, the Times said, pro-Humphrey delegates from Ohio, led by labor officials on the delegation, have forced the state's Democratic National Convention delegation to hold a caucus and list their preferences for the nomination.

The story also said in part: The caucus was held on Monday over the opposition of Gilligan; the state chairman, Eugene P. O'Grady, and other delegates who want to remain uncommitted until the convention opens in Chicago on Aug. 26.

The two incidents, according to informed observers, show that Humphrey has "lost his cool," as one put it, and is using every political weapon he has to put pressure on wavering delegates.

Gilligan attended the caucus but was not present when the delegates expressed a preference of presidential candidates on a roll call.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey was the preference of 68 delegates who have a total of 60 votes; Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota received three votes and Sen. Stephen M. Young, Ohio's favorite son candidate, received one vote.

Others among the 126 delegates who have 113 votes were either absent or non-committal. Two of Ohio's allotted 128 delegates with 115 votes are deceased.

The decision of whether to conduct such a roll call caused a heated discussion among persons in the caucus. The question arose early in the evening meeting and after a half-hour the question was tabled temporarily on a 52-41 vote.

At least two motions to adjourn were defeated or put aside before the candidate preference issue was taken up again at the end of the meeting.

National Committeeman Albert Porter of Cleveland, who was named permanent chairman of the delegation, claimed that he had five proxy votes from absentees from Humphrey.

Miss Betty Jane Gaffney of Toledo, nominated by the delegation as National Committeewoman, sought to have Porter announce his total of the preference vote to newsmen.

O'Grady told Porter the proxy votes should be checked. O'Grady announced the preference as tabulated by him.

Even Czech Films Liberalized

By NORMAN GOLDSTEIN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Recent Czechoslovak movies seen in the United States reflect the liberalization of the Prague Communist regime which has angered the Soviet Union and much of its European bloc.

The films, increasingly popular here, have contained a high degree of innovation and have tended to stress irony and humor in their handling of contemporary problems of everyday life.

They frequently have poked fun at the Communist party line and have played more on the frustrations brought about by Red policy rather than on its "accomplishments."

This is a far cry from the "socialist realism"—the idealization of life in Communist lands—which is the official dogma of the Kremlin.

Prime example of the "new" type of Czech film was "Closely Watched Trains," which won an Academy Award as best foreign language film last year. The tragicomic tells a story of a young boy's sexual coming of age and takes place at a small railroad station during World War II.

Earlier this year, the magazine Soviet Culture, organ of the Soviet Ministry of Culture, singled out "Closely Watched Trains" as an example of a "negative" approach to communism. It called the movie a "re-creation from the traditions of realism" and said it "ignored the people's values."

The film was written and directed by 31-year-old Jiri Menzel, who also plays a role in the movie.

The year before, American audiences took to "The Shop on Main Street," which became the first East European film to win an Oscar. It is about the friendship between an old Jewish woman shopkeeper and an "Aryan" Czech assigned to take over her business during the Nazi occupation.

It has grossed more than $3 million in the U.S. market—adding a realistic reason to the political one that has kept the Czech government from any movie pre-censorship.

It was co-directed by Jan Kadar and Elmar Klos, two highly respected filmmakers in the state run industry.

In an Associated Press interview after accepting the Oscar for that film, Klos was asked what was behind the burgeoning Czech film industry of the past few years.

"It is because of the new cultural atmosphere that began about four years ago," he said then. "Since that time, 20 new, talented directors have graduated from the (film) academy and they are doing exciting things."

Kadar added: "Our country always has been superior in cartoons and puppet films. The freedoms we have enjoyed in the past few years has allowed us to catch up in other kinds of films. We have no supervision in the making of movies. There may be controversy after the film is made, but we have the freedom to make it."

Clay Shaw Trial Is Postponed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Clay L. Shaw's trial has been delayed again—at least until the U.S. Supreme Court starts its fall term. A special three-judge federal court barred further prosecution of Shaw, accused by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison of conspiring to kill President John F. Kennedy, until the Supreme Court rules on an appeal by Shaw's lawyers.

Shaw had been scheduled for trial Sept. 10 in Criminal District Court. He was arrested March 1, 1967 by Garrison, who claims a New Orleans-based plot led to the assassination of Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., on Nov. 22, 1963.

Even Czech Films Liberalized

By NORMAN GOLDSTEIN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Recent Czechoslovak movies seen in the United States reflect the liberalization of the Prague Communist regime which has angered the Soviet Union and much of its European bloc.

The films, increasingly popular here, have contained a high degree of innovation and have tended to stress irony and humor in their handling of contemporary problems of everyday life.

They frequently have poked fun at the Communist party line and have played more on the frustrations brought about by

NGUYEN THAN LE, North Vietnam spokesman at the peace talks in Paris, condemns Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon's policy on Vietnam and accuses him of "impudence." He also said Vice President Hubert Humphrey's recent statement that peace in Vietnam is closer than ever is "inexact."

Clay Shaw Trial Is Postponed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Clay L. Shaw's trial has been delayed again—at least until the U.S. Supreme Court starts its fall term. A special three-judge federal court barred further prosecution of Shaw, accused by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison of conspiring to kill President John F. Kennedy, until the Supreme Court rules on an appeal by Shaw's lawyers.

Shaw had been scheduled for trial Sept. 10 in Criminal District Court. He was arrested March 1, 1967 by Garrison, who claims a New Orleans-based plot led to the assassination of Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., on Nov. 22, 1963.

Earlier this year, the magazine Soviet Culture, organ of the Soviet Ministry of Culture, singled out "Closely Watched Trains" as an example of a "negative" approach to communism. It called the movie a "re-reat from the traditions of realism" and said it "ignored the people's values."

The film was written and directed by 31-year-old Jiri Menzel, who also plays a role in the movie.

The year before, American audiences took to "The Shop on Main Street," which became the first East European film to win an Oscar. It is about the friendship between an old Jewish woman shopkeeper and an "Aryan" Czech assigned to take over her business during the Nazi occupation.

It has grossed more than $3 million in the U.S. market—adding a realistic reason to the political one that has kept the Czech government from any movie pre-censorship.

It was co-directed by Jan Kadar and Elmar Klos, two highly respected filmmakers in the state run industry.

In an Associated Press interview after accepting the Oscar for that film, Klos was asked what was behind the burgeoning Czech film industry of the past few years.

"It is because of the new cultural atmosphere that began about four years ago," he said then. "Since that time, 20 new, talented directors have graduated from the (film) academy and they are doing exciting things." Kadar added: "Our country always has been superior in cartoons and puppet films. The freedoms we have enjoyed in the past few years has allowed us to catch up in other kinds of films. We have no supervision in the making of movies. There may be controversy after the film is made, but we have the freedom to make it."

Civilization Symbol

Sociologists have no firm answer to the question of the handshake's origin but most of them accept the explanation that it is the result of two strangers showing empty hands to one another; that no weapon was carried and no harm was meant.

The individual today is largely impotent as a warring party, in contrast to his ancestors among ancient peoples who regarded the noble gladiator as the ultimate and most distinguished warrior.

He has been replaced by concentrated power blocs who now hold the key to survival or disaster.

Something To Think About . . . To the Quiet People

By JEAN CRIST

In Guideposts magazine there is often a section called "The Quiet People" which tells about individuals who go out of their way to help their fellow man in various ways, but who do not seek recognition or reward for their efforts. It is interesting to read and makes you feel that the world can't be too bad if there are people such as this living in it.

As I thought about it, it came to me that there are many such people living right here in our own community. Their names are not often in the newspaper, they receive little public recognition, and they are usually known only to those whom they serve. Who are these people and what do they do? They can be anyone, your neighbor next door or the man who lives at the opposite end of town. They do such things as visiting the bereaved family for many weeks after their loss, the time when life is very difficult for them. They drive persons who are invalided or aged to the doctor's office for appointments or visit patients in nursing homes who are not necessarily members of their own families. They may bake a pie and care for the children of a mother who is ill or write a note of appreciation for a job well done by someone they don't know personally. They may stop along the road to help fix a flat tire or come over and finish cutting your grass when they see your mower is broken. Children can be "quiet people" too. When mother is tired and they volunteer to wash the dishes or watch the young ones for a while or when Dad has a hectic day and the teenager offers to wash the car and clean it up. The list of things these people do is literally endless, for their main purpose is to serve other people and in this world there is no end to the needs of others.

We all can think of names of persons we know who qualify to be called "quiet people" and as we think about them we realize how much pleasure has been brought to our life by just knowing them.

To you who read this and know in your heart you are one of "the quiet people" I pay tribute today for doing your part to make this a better world. For sharing your wealth of spirit with those whom fate has given less.

Now these individuals are not saints and they would be the first ones to admit to this fact. They are very much human beings and because of this very humanness they are able to understand and tolerate some of the more unpleasant aspects of the human personality. They recognize in themselves imperfections and therefore are able to forgive other's imperfections more readily. But the two most striking attributes of the "quiet people" are their genuine concern for the welfare of those around them no matter who they may be and their wish to do their acts of kindness with as little notice as possible.

What I find most encouraging about the subject is that any one of us who desires to may join this company of "quiet people." All we need are the two requisites I mentioned above and the wish to be one. And it is interesting to note that each of us have made a start in this direction. For in reality, we all have a "quiet side" to our personality. With a great many of us it is seldom used and may be quite rusty, but with a little oil of human kindness applied to it and by using it at least once a day you might be surprised at how well it would serve you. As with any skill, it takes constant practice and dedication to make it an art but what could be more personally rewarding than developing the art of serving other people.

In the following quotation William Wordsworth says it well, "The best portion of a good man's life is his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and love."

Volunteer Meteorologists Honored by Weather Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP) — Woodrow Wilson was midway through his first term when Tirthah Miley, then 12, began reporting temperature and rainfall data for her small Virginia town to the Weather Bureau every day. She's still at it.

The Weather Bureau announced today Tirthah—now Tirthah Spiggle—and four other volunteer observers have been selected to receive the 1968 Thomas Jefferson Awards for unusual and outstanding accomplishments in the field of meteorological observations.

The award is named for Jefferson because he was a weather buff, too, and kept a log on the weather with almost no gaps from 1776 to 1816.

Jefferson Award winners besides Mrs. Spiggle are Thomas Fleming of Ashwood, Tenn.;

Workers Return To Stadium Job

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sixteen striking carpenters returned to work at the riverfront stadium project Wednesday and the stadium contractor said about 75 more would be on the job by Friday.

The carpenters decided to return after the contractor—Huber Hunt and Nichols—agreed to retroactive raises when the city-wide construction strike is settled.

The strike went into its 76th day today. All trade unions except the carpenters have agreed to new contracts, but union representatives and contractors said individual contracts had little effect on the over-all strike as stages of construction at many projects were dependent on carpenters.

Laff-A-Day

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A MOTORIST who rather fancied his skill at the wheel confessed that he was experiencing new difficulties driving to and from work every day. "It used to be duck soup," he admitted, "but now—WOW! Cars seem to be popping out at me from all directions—and it's been that way ever since I got my new eyeglasses."

A little boy worrying through his very first day at school, raised his hand for permission to go to the washroom, returned to the class a few moments later to report that he couldn't find it.

Dispatched a second time with explicit directions, he still couldn't find it. So this time the teacher asked a slightly older boy to act as guide. Success crowned his efforts. "We finally found it," he told the teacher. "He had his pants on backwards."

Frightful Pun Department: A crowd gathered to watch two showboats battling a pickle back and forth across a net with ping-pong paddles. "Aha," cackled one onlooker who wisely refused to give his name, "The Volley of the Dills!"

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have recovered from a recent attack of bronchopneumonia and was left with a tremendous sense of weakness. I am now told that I have a condition, angraulocytosis, which accounts for it. I have never heard of this and as you can imagine, am terribly upset even though I am assured that I will recover. Can you tell me more about this and why it should have occurred to me?

Mr. Y.D.S., Wisconsin
Dear Mr. S: Agranulocytosis is a disorder of the blood in which the white blood cells fall to an extremely low level. This is a rare complication, not of the disease itself, but more usually of the drug that was used to combat the infection.

The white blood cells are the ones that fight infection and are the "national guard" that are called out when any organ of the body is invaded by bacteria. When a toxic reaction to a drug has reduced the normal number of white blood cells or leukocytes, as they are known, a number of symptoms may occur that are difficult to control immediately.

The average number of white cells during health ranges between 5,000 and 10,000 in each cubic mm. Agranulocytosis is recognized readily by blood study and usually can be corrected by stopping the offending drug. In cases occasionally associated with the use of X-rays and nitrogen mustard drugs, special types of transfusions are sometimes given. Treatment is usually devoted to the ulceration of the mouth that may develop, prolonged bed rest, high vitamin and high caloric diets.

When you asked why it should have occurred to you there is the vague suggestion that you are the ill-fated one who particularly was punished by this complication. It occurs in many instances and you are favored because your doctor recognized the condition early and instituted proper treatment.

For the past two years I have had attacks of dizziness which make me reel like a drunkard although I do not drink any alcohol. The condition has been diagnosed as Meniere's Disease by one doctor and another doctor believes it is due to poor circulation to the brain because of my age, which is seventy-six. I don't know what Meniere's Disease is but it frightens me.

Mr. G.E., Kansas
Dear Mr. E: I don't quite

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Wherever man goes to also goes a trash problem, and since man is continuing to move from rural areas to urban centers, city fathers around the world are faced with monumental garbage disposal problems.

The garbage and trash disposal problem is complicated by the fact that as more people crowd into a city there is generally less empty space available for disposal in landfills, junkyards or incinerators.

But just as the situation looks worst comes the realization that one man's problem has always been another's opportunity. In trash, evidence now shows, there is revenue for railroads and city treasuries, steam and electricity for buildings and even gold to replenish that lost to the international speculators.

Inventors of fantastic, grotesque machines for grinding, crushing, shredding and compacting also are having a fiendishly happy time of it.

But first the railroads. In Philadelphia the city has just signed a contract with a land reclamation company to haul trash from the city by rail and dump it into the unsightly cavities of old anthracite strip mines to the north.

The method supposedly will cost the city $2 a ton less than incineration, which is now used, and presumably also will cover and fertilize the sterile, scarred landscape from which the coal was dug.

Other railroads, such as the Illinois Central, Western Pacific and Western Maryland, are interested in similar contracts.

Ross Wilhelm, a business economist and University of Michigan professor, feels that America's attitude toward its refuse might be wrong. We tend to think of garbage not only as valueless, he says, but as costly too. Perhaps, as he suggests, the affluent society should think more highly of its effluence.

Wilhelm notes that Paris now burns 1.5 million tons of garbage a year to produce steam and electricity, and that Munich, Germany, obtains about 10 per cent of its power needs by burning trash. Geneva, Montreal, San Francisco and Norfolk also operate similar plants.

There's even gold in rubbish, claims the U.S. Bureau of Mines. The fly ash of garbage incinerators has been found to be a source, potentially, of millions of dollars of recoverable gold, silver and other metals.

These precious metals come from photographic chemicals, the solder of electric equipment, articles that have been plated and even the sparkle dust on Christmas and birthday cards.

Disposal by train and by fire, however, has not dulled the inventiveness of the engineers who create the monster machines.

The latest in commercial compressors was reported this week from Yokosuka, Japan, where a plant went into operation to reduce tons of garbage to blocks solid as a rock.

As 3,000 tons of pressure is applied to the garbage the liquids are squeezed out, along with much of the odor. The blocks are then encased in asphalt sealants so that they can be used as the foundations for buildings or other monuments to man's ingenuity.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — America's housewives may spend more time pushing buttons than sewing them on in our electronic future.

For example, says Milt Immerman, a top industrial designer:

"She will have in her kitchen a small television screen and a console with a number of buttons.

"Instead of making a daily trip to the supermarket, she will push a button and see on the screen a parade of products and their prices, including the day's specials. She'll push coded buttons to select the items she wishes. The last button she presses will give the code key to her bank.

"Her grocery order will be filled overnight at a central distributing center, charged to her bank account, and delivered to her door the following morning."

Sound like a dream? Immerman, who makes a business of turning dreams into realities at the drafting board, is full of visions of what life may be like next.

"As our society gets more urban," he remarked, "The problem will be to get people from one place to another."

"It may become practical to join skyscrapers at their rooftops with connecting struts that will both strengthen them against sway and provide runways or landing strips for people flying into the city. Monorails could be put under the struts to enable quick travel from one place to another within the city."

Immerman, a big, genial graying man of 58 with a tremendous gusto for living, is president of Walter Dorwin Teague Associates, Inc. The firm is named after its late founder, a pioneer in the still pioneering field of engineering design.

He and his colleagues have designed products ranging from soap wrappers to the world's first automatic robot, a fellow called Unimate.

"The Ford company now has 15 or 20 of these Unimates," he said. "They can be taught to perform 16,000 different functions. They can pour you a cup of coffee or lift a 75-pound white-hot casting from a foundry."

Pointing out that the Industrial Design Society of America still has only about 600 members, Immerman said the field was wide open to talented young men and women interested in helping man "fashion his response to the challenge of his changing environment."

"The big reward is the reward of being a pioneer," he observed. "You are ahead of your times. You work on things that won't reach the public for several years."

The dollar reward is a lure too. Industrial designers, he said, earn from $5,000 to 40,000 or $50,000 a year.

To Immerman, industrial designing at its best is a happy wedding of the skills and knowledge of such various disciplines as engineering, architecture, marketing, sociology and psychology.

He himself entered the still-new field after earning an engineering degree at the University of Iowa and serving an apprenticeship as a Broadway stage designer. His hobby is portrait painting.

Immerman and his staff of 250 work on as many as a 1,000 to 1,500 projects and problems in a year. One that tickles him the most was one of the simplest—the design of a rectangular package for toothpaste.

"Wild, Wild West," of course, is an imaginative Western spoof and certainly no one beyond tender years ever takes seriously its bizarre situations, co-star Ross Martin's elaborate disguises or the anachronistic scientific and mechanical inventions of the assorted bad guys. Nevertheless, it is one of the action series being watched by network censors for scenes of excessive violence, even if the violence is all in fun.

In past seasons the two secret agents have encountered evil geniuses who have invented—and are using for foul purposes—such modern miracles as electricity, anesthetics, lethal rays and gases, telephones, radio and television. In the episode currently in production, the 1874 heroes have "invented" a scuba gear with which to foil villains who beat Jacques Yves Cousteau by about 100 years in dreaming up a way to plan an underwater community—concealed under an enormous plastic—which they also invented—octopus.

Conrad has become, since his early TV days as a co-star in "Hawaiian Eye," an established star and a millionaire. "I think the show is good for at least a fifth season—one after this, anyway," he said. "Then I'd like to get involved in producing and directing films."

Something To Think About . . .

To the Quiet People

By JEAN CRIST

In Guideposts magazine there is often a section called "The Quiet People" which tells about individuals who go out of their way to help their fellow man in various ways, but who do not seek recognition or reward for their efforts. It is interesting to read and makes you feel that the world can't be too bad if there are people such as this living in it.

As I thought about it, it came to me that there are many such people living right here in our own community. Their names are not often in the newspaper, they receive little public recognition, and they are usually known only to those whom they serve. Who are these people and what do they do? They can be anyone, your neighbor next door or the man who lives at the opposite end of town. They do such things as visiting the bereaved family for many weeks after their loss, the time when life is very difficult for them. They drive persons who are invalided or aged to the doctor's office for appointments or visit patients in nursing homes who are not necessarily members of their own families. They may bake a pie and care for the children of a mother who is ill or write a note of appreciation for a job well done by someone they don't know personally. They may stop along the road to help fix a flat tire or come over and finish cutting your grass when they see your mower is broken. Children can be "quiet people" too. When mother is tired and they volunteer to wash the dishes or watch the young ones for a while or when Dad has a hectic day and the teenager offers to wash the car and clean it up. The list of things these people do is literally endless, for their main purpose is to serve other people and in this world there is no end to the needs of others.

We all can think of names of persons we know who qualify to be called "quiet people" and as we think about them we realize how much pleasure has been brought to our life by just knowing them.

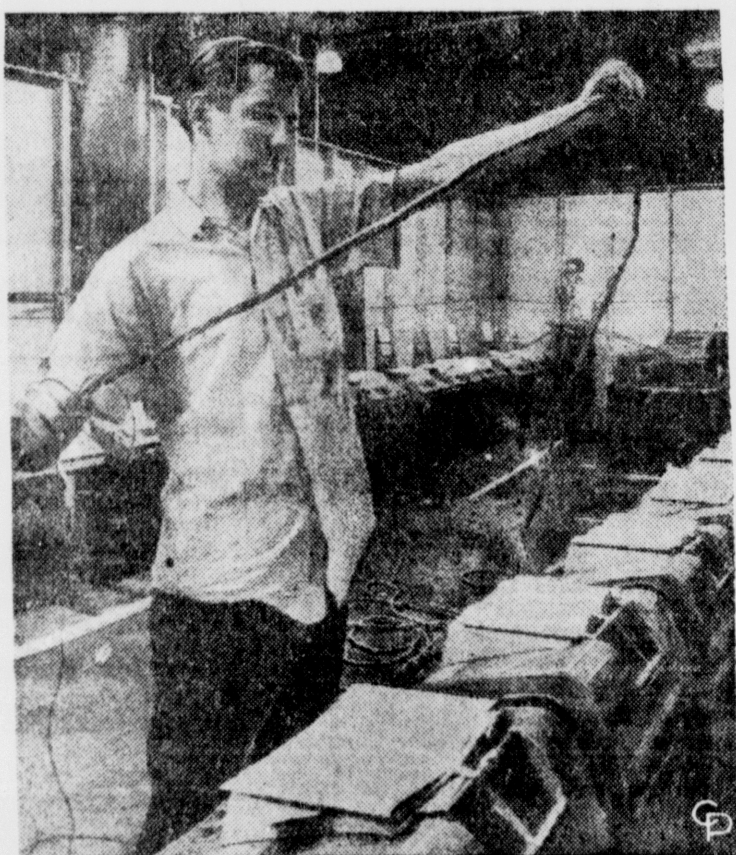

To you who read this and know in your heart you are one of "the quiet people" I pay tribute today for doing your part to make this a better world. For sharing your wealth of spirit with those whom fate has given less.

Now these individuals are not saints and they would be the first ones to admit to this fact. They are very much human beings and because of this very humanness they are able to understand and tolerate some of the more unpleasant aspects of the human personality. They recognize in themselves imperfections and therefore are able to forgive other's imperfections more readily. But the two most striking attributes of the "quiet people" are their genuine concern for the welfare of those around them no matter who they may be and their wish to do their acts of kindness with as little notice as possible.

What I find most encouraging about the subject is that any one of us who desires to may join this company of "quiet people." All we need are the two requisites I mentioned above and the wish to be one. And it is interesting to note that each of us have made a start in this direction. For in reality, we all have a "quiet side" to our personality. With a great many of us it is seldom used and may be quite rusty, but with a little oil of human kindness applied to it and by using it at least once a day you might be surprised at how well it would serve you. As with any skill, it takes constant practice and dedication to make it an art but what could be more personally rewarding than developing the art of serving other people.

In the following quotation William Wordsworth says it well, "The best portion of a good man's life is his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and love."

Volunteer Meteorologists Honored by Weather Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP) — Woodrow Wilson was midway through his first term when Tihzah Miley, then 12, began reporting temperature and rainfall data for her small Virginia town to the Weather Bureau every day. She's still at it.

The Weather Bureau announced today Tihzah—now Tihzah Spiggle—and four other volunteer observers have been selected to receive the 1968 Thomas Jefferson Award for unusual and outstanding accomplishments in the field of meteorological observations.

The award is named for Jefferson because he was a weather buff, too, and kept a log on the weather with almost no gaps from 1776 to 1816.

Jefferson Award winners besides Mrs. Spiggle are Thomas Fleming of Ashwood, Tenn.;

Milford L. Noon of Nogales, Ariz.; Roger C. Rice of Los Banos, Calif.; and Sarah M. Taylor of Merrill, Miss.

Three in that group have exceeded Jefferson's mark of 40 years of observations. Mrs. Spiggle will complete 53 years in October. Mrs. Taylor started 50 years ago and Noon, now 58, started when he was 15.

The Jefferson Award winners are the superstars of the 12,000-member volunteer weather observer network, which feeds in locally gathered data the Weather Bureau still needs despite its computers and satellites. Twenty-four other observers will receive the John Campanus Holm Award for "continuing excellence" in reporting.

It's a no-pay job that often means going out in wretched weather to take readings, but observers tend to treat it as a solemn obligation and an honor to be handed on to the next generation.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A MOTORIST who rather fancied his skill at the wheel confessed that he was experiencing new difficulties driving to and from work every day. "It used to be duck soup," he admitted, "but now—WOW! Cars seem to be popping out at me from all directions—and it's been that way ever since I got my new eyeglasses."

A little boy worrying through his very first day at school, raised his hand for permission to go to the washroom, returned to the class a few moments later to report that he couldn't find it.

Dispatched a second time with explicit directions, he still couldn't find it. So this time the teacher asked a slightly older boy to act as guide. Success crowned his efforts. "We finally found it," he told the teacher. "He had his pants on backwards."

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have recovered from a recent attack of bronchopneumonia and was left with a tremendous sense of weakness. I am now told that I have a condition, agranulocytosis, which accounts for it. I have never heard of this and as you can imagine, am terribly upset even though I am assured that I will recover. Can you tell me more about this and why it should have occurred to me?

Mr. Y.D.S., Wisconsin
Dear Mr. S: Agranulocytosis is a disorder of the blood in which the white blood cells fall to an extremely low level. This is a rare complication, not of the disease itself, but more usually of the drug that was used to combat the infection.

The white blood cells are the ones that fight infection and are the "national guard" that are called out when any organ of the body is invaded by bacteria. When a toxic reaction to a drug has reduced the normal number of white blood cells or leukocytes, as they are known, a number of symptoms may occur that are difficult to control immediately.

The average number of white cells during health ranges between 5,000 and 10,000 in each cubic mm. Agranulocytosis is recognized readily by blood study and usually can be corrected by stopping the offending drug. In cases occasionally associated with the use of X-rays and nitrogen mustard drugs, special types of transfusions are sometimes given. Treatment is usually devoted to the ulceration of the mouth that may develop, prolonged bed rest, high vitamin and high caloric diets.

When you asked why it should have occurred to you there is the vague suggestion that you are the ill-fated one who particularly was punished by this complication. It occurs in many instances and you are favored because your doctor recognized the condition early and instituted proper treatment.

For the past two years I have had attacks of dizziness which make me feel like a drunkard although I do not drink any alcohol. The condition has been diagnosed as Meniere's Disease by one doctor and another doctor believes it is due to poor circulation to the brain because of my age, which is seventy-six. I don't know what Meniere's Disease is but it frightens me.

Mr. G.E., Kansas
Dear Mr. E: I don't quite know why the name Meniere's Disease frightens so many people, but it does. Unfortunately, some people use the term Meniere's Disease as a synonym for dizziness when it is not.

Meniere's is a very specific condition which is associated with sudden episodes of intense dizziness, progressive hearing impairment and noise in the head. Even naming these symptoms will, I am afraid, make some readers believe "That's just what I have" even though it is not true.

There are dozens of causes of dizziness which have wrongly been labeled Meniere's Disease. Low blood pressure, high blood pressure, arteriosclerosis of the blood vessels in the elderly, drugs, low blood sugar and infections of the ear can all cause some form of dizziness. Patients themselves confuse headaches, faintness and light headedness with dizziness when they describe their sensations to a doctor. Whether you have Meniere's or not, and the likelihood is that you do not, your condition can be controlled by diligently following the doctor's instructions.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Wherever man goes so also goes a trash problem, and since man is continuing to move from rural areas to urban centers, city fathers around the world are faced with monumental garbage disposal problems.

The garbage and trash disposal problem is complicated by the fact that as more people crowd into a city there is generally less empty space available for disposal in landfills, junkyards or incinerators.

But just as the situation looks worst comes the realization that one man's problem has always been another's opportunity. In trash, evidence now shows, there is revenue for railroads and city treasuries, steam and electricity for buildings and even gold to replenish that lost to the international speculators.

Inventors of fantastic, grotesque machines for grinding, crushing, shredding and compacting also are having a fiendishly happy time of it.

But first the railroads. In Philadelphia the city has just signed a contract with a land reclamation company to haul real, San Francisco and Norfolk also operate similar plants.

There's even gold in rubbish, claims the U.S. Bureau of Mines. The fly ash of garbage incinerators has been found to be a source, potentially, of millions of dollars of recoverable gold, silver and other metals.

These precious metals come from photographic chemicals, the solder of electric equipment, articles that have been plated and even the sparkle dust on Christmas and birthday cards.

Disposal by train and by fire, however, has not dulled the inventiveness of the engineers who create the monster machines.

The latest in commercial compressors was reported this week from Yokosuka, Japan, where a plant went into operation to reduce tons of garbage to blocks solid as a rock.

As 3,000 tons of pressure is applied to the garbage the liquids are squeezed out, along with much of the odor. The blocks are then encased in asphalt sealants so that they can be used as the foundations for buildings or other monuments to man's ingenuity.

Wilhelm notes that Paris now burns 1.5 million tons of garbage a year to produce steam and electricity, and that Munich, Germany, obtains about 10 per cent of its power needs by burning trash. Geneva, Mont-

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The star's chair on the "Wild, Wild West" set bears an unusual identifying inscription: "Robert Conrad, ex-stuntman, retired by CBS, Jan. 24, 1968."

Conrad, who was darn near retired from this world on that date, is reminded of his luck every time he sees the chair, which is kept just beyond camera range. For a while it appeared that the series would end abruptly before the completion of its third year.

It was one of the little-publicized mishaps of the season, although the show's fans may have concluded that they were getting fewer shows than usual. They were, 23 instead of 26. Conrad's accident came in the middle of the 24th show which could not be completed.

The actor, who enjoys doing his own stunts, leaped from a balcony, grabbed a big chandelier and from there was to land on a villain below. The timing was off and Conrad slipped and landed on his head some 15 feet below the lighting fixture. The result was a double skull fracture, weeks in the hospital and a long convalescence slowed by constant dizziness.

The series is now in full production for its fourth season and Conrad is back—healthy and in physical trim. One corner of the building housing the show's permanent sets is a gymnasium, complete with a boxing ring. Conrad, who keeps himself in

Secret Service Hopping To Protect 6 Candidates

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The shifting cast of characters on the political stage has kept the Secret Service hopping in its new role as protector of presidential and vice presidential hopefuls.

There was a wholesale changing of the guard, for instance, after last week's Republican National Convention and another will follow the upcoming Democratic convention.

Since they ended up in the GOP losers' column at Miami, Harold Stassen, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan no longer qualify for shielding by the Secret Service.

The details of agents assigned to them have been withdrawn and dealt out to newcomers on the candidate list—GOP vice presidential nominee Spiro T. Agnew, for instance, and Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, who blossomed over the weekend as a Democratic contender.

The assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles while he was campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination in June was the event that added candidate protection to the chores of the Secret Service, traditional guardians of the president and vice president.

When he assigned the new role, President Johnson acknowledged he had no specific authority to do so. But Congress backed him up, quickly supplying a law extending Secret Service protection to "major candidates" for the presidency and vice presidency.

Some $2 million was voted to cover increased Secret Service expenses through the election. A spokesman for the agency said Tuesday it is not known yet whether this will be enough. The amount was picked by using data from past campaigns in which the president or vice president went on the campaign trail, he said.

The decision as to who gets the protection and who doesn't rests under the statute with the secretary of the Treasury, advised by a committee made up of the speaker of the House and the Republican and Democratic leaders in each chamber of Congress.

In the case of McGovern, a committee spokesman said, the advisory committee members who could be reached were polled by telephone Saturday and were unanimous that McGovern fits the "major candidate" criterion. Agents joined McGovern at 12:58 p.m. Monday.

McGovern brings the list of protected candidates to six, including Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who comes under the Secret Service umbrella on two counts—as the vice president and as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Also on the protected list are Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, Humphrey's main rival for nomination; GOP presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon and his running mate Agnew, and American Independent Party candidate George Wallace.

Secret Service Hopping To Protect 6 Candidates

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The shifting cast of characters on the political stage has kept the Secret Service hopping in its new role as protector of presidential and vice presidential hopefuls.

There was a wholesale changing of the guard, for instance, after last week's Republican National Convention and another will follow the upcoming Democratic convention.

Since they ended up in the GOP losers' column at Miami, Harold Stassen, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan no longer qualify for shielding by the Secret Service.

The details of agents assigned to them have been withdrawn and dealt out to newcomers on the candidate list—GOP vice presidential nominee Spiro T. Agnew, for instance, and Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, who blossomed over the weekend as a Democratic contender.

The assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles while he was campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination in June was the event that added candidate protection to the chores of the Secret Service, traditional guardians of the president and vice president.

When he assigned the new role, President Johnson acknowledged he had no specific authority to do so. But Congress backed him up, quickly supplying a law extending Secret Service protection to "major candidates" for the presidency and vice presidency.

Some $2 million was voted to cover increased Secret Service expenses through the election. A spokesman for the agency said Tuesday it is not known yet whether this will be enough. The amount was picked by using data from past campaigns in which the president or vice president went on the campaign trail, he said.

The decision as to who gets the protection and who doesn't rests under the statute with the secretary of the Treasury, advised by a committee made up of the speaker of the House and the Republican and Democratic leaders in each chamber of Congress.

In the case of McGovern, a committee spokesman said, the advisory committee members who could be reached were polled by telephone Saturday and were unanimous that McGovern fits the "major candidate" criterion. Agents joined McGovern at 12:58 p.m. Monday.

McGovern brings the list of protected candidates to six, including Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who comes under the Secret Service umbrella on two counts—as the vice president and as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Also on the protected list are Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, Humphrey's main rival for nomination; GOP presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon and his running mate Agnew, and American Independent Party candidate George Wallace.

New Furniture Designs A Matter of Material

By ELEANOR ROSS
Fabrics and materials play a dominant role in the new furniture designs and offer a wonderful variety to the decorator, professional or amateur. Fabrics are apt to be solid-toned velvets, leathers, vinyls, suedes and deep contrasting colors in woven textures.

A rich lively paisley appears in red, red-orange, violet, gold, and black. Deep reds, purples and golden tones show up in a tight floral pattern. A damask background and a taupe pattern is given a contemporary casual treatment; traditional motifs take on a thoroughly modern excitement.

Some Inroads
A noticeable dent in the Mediterranean traditional-contemporary front is being made by formal French which is more cosmopolitan than its country cousin, French Provincial. This "high" French twist shows up in Louis V and Louis XVI bergeres (sofas, chairs), serpentine and bombe chests and consoles. It is seen in fruitwood finishes as well as antiqued paints, in silks and velvets, in strong color statements such as vibrant pastel upholstery fabrics that are contemporary in treatment but meld harmoniously with the elegance of sophisticated French styling. Latex foam, used extensively

It is seen in fruitwood finishes as well as antiqued paints, in silks and velvets, in strong color statements such as vibrant pastel upholstery fabrics that are contemporary in treatment but meld harmoniously with the elegance of sophisticated French styling.

Latex foam, used extensively in the cushioning and in day beds, can be pared down to cushion sleek modern chairs or become plumply billowing in a Regency bergere. This type of furniture blends well with the "mixers" such as square or hexagonal glass-topped see-through tables with polished pewter legs and stretchers, the new ginger-jar lamp bases with pleated shades. It also fits in handsomely with increasingly important Oriental touches such as screens and porcelains, as well as tapestries with a Chinese flavor, bamboo etageres and the like.

All Over

Decorators also say very avant garde furniture is sweeping over Europe as well as this country. This may take a sinuous, serpentine and wavy form, molded often of latex rubber and covered in riotously patterned fabrics rather psychedelic in treatment when they are not imitating the flora and fauna of the jungle in printed velvets or stretch fabrics.

A leap ahead of these creations, see-through plastic pillows, chairs and sofas are inflated with air and come equipped sometimes with their own repair kits in case of leaks. These are novelties, perhaps, but, we note, they are growing in favor.

McCarthy Forces Challenge Seating of Demo Delegations

WASHINGTON (AP) — McCarthy forces plan to zero in on the Deep South using charges of racial discrimination in a broad assault on delegate seating at the Democratic National Convention.

The main target will be Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox's 107-member delegation. But scores more delegates could be picked up by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in other southern states, including Texas.

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., Washington lawyer who is rules and credentials coordinator for the Minnesota presidential hopeful, said Tuesday local party organizations in some northern states didn't give McCarthy backers a fair shake.

But Rauh said he thinks the McCarthy camp has its best chance to pick up the most delegates in the South.

"The racial cases clearly are the best and most likely of success," said Rauh in an interview.

Most of the attention so far has focused on a move by a biracial loyalist slate in Mississippi to unseat the state's regular Democratic delegation, which include Gov. John Bell Williams.

The McCarthyites are supporting the biracial group. But so are the other two contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota.

"That's a contest that is not in the political arena but in the civil rights arena," Rauh said.

In Alabama, the regular Democratic delegation led by State Chairman Robert S. Vance is being challenged by two rival slates—one pro-McCarthy and the other pro-Humphrey.

And Vance in turn is challenging the seating of McCarthy delegates throughout the country because the senator has refused to commit himself to support the party's presidential nominee.

Rauh said under a compromise agreement approved at the 1956 convention delegates cannot be forced to take loyalty oaths.

Rauh said McCarthy forces are entitled to 50 delegates in the Texas delegation, or 48 per cent, on the basis of voting strength shown by Negroes, Mexican-Americans and liberals over the last 12 years. All, however, are now pledged to Gov. John Connally as a favorite son.

Challenges involving the Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Washington delegations are based on alleged irregularities and inequities in the selection process.

In Connecticut, the McCarthy forces contend they are entitled to 13 instead of nine delegates; in Pennsylvania to 18 instead of two at-large delegates, and in Michigan to four delegates from the 6th Congressional district.

Rauh said that in Washington state, fraud is charged in the selection of delegates from two counties. Since these delegates participated in the state convention, the whole delegation may be tainted, Rauh said.

Violence Deplored

NEW DELHI (AP) — Condemning a recent threat to kill the new chief minister of Mysore State, Veerendra Patil, a disciple of Mohandas Gandhi commented:

"On reading the news, I wondered if our people are imitating America. We are far away from the affluence and other achievements of that country."

R.R. Diwakar, president of the Gandhi Peace Foundation, regretted that any Indian should think of violence to achieve political ends.

British Again Slowly Push For Economic Membership

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer
BRUSSELS (AP) — A new effort is planned for this fall to get Britain and four other countries in the north of Europe closer to membership in the Common Market, despite the opposition of France's President Charles de Gaulle.

De Gaulle has kept Britain out for over five years, but others still hope new ways of cooperation can be found.

The most important is expected to be in application of science to industry. This is a field where the continental countries are falling far behind the United States, and where Britain has much to offer.

In the building of computers and nuclear power reactors, for example, Britain's advantages are considerable. New emphasis will be put on nuclear experiments and on the coal and steel industries, areas in which Britain is already associated with the Common Market countries.

The British have played down these association agreements in the recent past. They did not want them extended to all fields of Common Market activity because they were afraid of being classed permanently as associate or second class citizens.

Now the British Government has reconciled itself to the idea that it is unlikely to become a full member of the Common Market while De Gaulle holds power. So it is looking for progress through practical measures which it hopes will bring membership closer when negotiations can actually start.

French economic troubles have pulled the rug from under one argument used against Britain's joining the common market. French officials used to say that Britain could not be a member until she brought her international accounts into balance. Britain may now be closer to balance than is France.

Present Common Market members, besides France, are West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The last five all want Britain to join.

McCarthy Forces Challenge Seating of Demo Delegations

WASHINGTON (AP) — McCarthy forces plan to zero in on the Deep South using charges of racial discrimination in a broad assault on delegate seating at the Democratic National Convention.

The main target will be Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox's 107-member delegation. But scores more delegates could be picked up by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in other southern states, including Texas.

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., Washington lawyer who is rules and credentials coordinator for the Minnesota presidential hopeful, said Tuesday local party organizations in some northern states didn't give McCarthy backers a fair shake.

But Rauh said he thinks the McCarthy camp has its best chance to pick up the most delegates in the South.

"The racial cases clearly are the best and most likely of success," said Rauh in an interview.

Most of the attention so far has focused on a move by a biracial loyalist slate in Mississippi to unseat the state's regular Democratic delegation, which include Gov. John Bell Williams.

The McCarthyites are supporting the biracial group. But so are the other two contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota.

"That's a contest that is not in the political arena but in the civil rights arena," Rauh said.

In Alabama, the regular Democratic delegation led by State Chairman Robert S. Vance is being challenged by two rival slates—one pro-McCarthy and the other pro-Humphrey.

And Vance in turn is challenging the seating of McCarthy delegates throughout the country because the senator has refused to commit himself to support the party's presidential nominee.

Rauh said under a compromise agreement approved at the 1956 convention delegates cannot be forced to take loyalty oaths.

Rauh said McCarthy forces are entitled to 50 delegates in the Texas delegation, or 48 percent, on the basis of voting strength shown by Negroes, Mexican-Americans and liberals over the last 12 years. All, however, are now pledged to Gov. John Connally as a favorite son.

Challenges involving the Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Washington delegations are based on alleged irregularities and inequities in the selection process.

In Connecticut, the McCarthy forces contend they are entitled to 13 instead of nine delegates; in Pennsylvania to 18 instead of two at-large delegates, and in Michigan to four delegates from the 6th Congressional district.

Rauh said that in Washington state, fraud is charged in the selection of delegates from two counties. Since these delegates participated in the state convention, the whole delegation may be tainted, Rauh said.

De Gaulle has kept Britain out for over five years, but others still hope new ways of cooperation can be found.

The most important is expected to be in application of science to industry. This is a field where the continental countries are falling far behind the United States, and where Britain has much to offer.

In the building of computers and nuclear power reactors, for example, Britain's advantages are considerable. New emphasis will be put on nuclear experiments and on the coal and steel

They did not want them extended to all fields of Common Market activity because they were afraid of being classed permanently as associate or second class citizens.

De Gaulle has kept Britain out for over five years, but others still hope new ways of cooperation can be found.

The most important is expected to be in application of science to industry. This is a field where the continental countries are falling far behind the United States, and where Britain has much to offer.

In the building of computers and nuclear power reactors, for example, Britain's advantages are considerable. New emphasis will be put on nuclear experiments and on the coal and steel industries, areas in which Britain is already associated with the Common Market countries. The British have played down these association agreements in the recent past. They did not want them extended to all fields of Common Market activity because they were afraid of being classed permanently as associate or second class citizens.

Now the British Government has reconciled itself to the idea that it is unlikely to become a full member of the Common Market while De Gaulle holds power. So it is looking for progress through practical measures which it hopes will bring membership closer when negotiations can actually start.

French economic troubles have pulled the rug from under one argument used against Britain's joining the common market. French officials used to say that Britain could not be a member until she brought her international accounts into balance. Britain may now be closer to balance than is France.

Present Common Market members, besides France, are West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The last five all want Britain to join.

though, enthusiasm varies. Ireland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden, are also eager for membership. Their chances depend on with some reservations. Sweden's.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Can She Recall Rumor She Started?

DEAR ABBY: I wish I were a Catholic. Then I could go to a priest and confess the terrible thing I did, and he would give me his blessings and I could sleep again.

I got mad at my girl friend and started a terrible rumor about her (I said she got pregnant and had an abortion). I had no idea it would spread the way it did until my own mother heard it and told me I couldn't go around with her anymore.

Now the girl refuses to go back to school in September because everybody in town is talking about her. And some girls won't even speak to her.

If I confessed to my mother, she'd tell me to keep my mouth shut because she wouldn't want anyone to know what a stinker I am. I want to make it up to this girl because she really isn't a bad girl. Could I run an ad in the newspaper and say I lied?

CAN'T SLEEP
DEAR ABBY: Forget the ad, but do go to the girl and confess that you started the ugly rumor. And tell her you will also tell those who have unjustly ostracized her. You will never be able to undo the damage you've done, but I hope this will be a lesson to you.

DEAR ABBY: Why don't you throw your hat in the ring for President? I'll bet you'd get more votes than Wallace. I've been reading your column since way back and you make a lot of sense to me.

I notice you get lots of letters from widows and divorcees who can't corral the man they want. An old government trapper told me in Montana 40 years ago that if you use the right bait you can catch anything you're after.

WYOMING JACK
DEAR JACK: KNOWING what bait to use is no trick. It's being able to COME UP with the bait you need when you need it that counts.

DEAR ABBY: I agree with you 99 per cent of the time, but I couldn't go along with the advice you gave the father who told his 17-year-old son to either get a haircut or not to come home. (The boy didn't come home.) You told the father to forget the hair for now and to emphasize the more permanent aspects of his son's character. Tell me, Abby, how can a father mold his son's character if he can't make him mind?

As a law enforcement officer I have found that the biggest cause of juvenile delinquency is the inability of parents to get their children to mind.

I have a 19-year-old son who would wear his hair too long if he had his own way. I don't tell him to either get a haircut or not to come home, but I do tell him if he doesn't cut his hair, I will cut it for him if I have to do it while he's asleep.

Abby, if I didn't love my son I wouldn't care how long he grew his hair. I know all boys like to rebel a little, but when you put your foot down I think the average boy respects you for it. I know mine does.

A FATHER
Concerned's letter about her sister-in-law riding a motorcycle at age 61: I have a very lovable uncle in Denver who is 79 and HE rides a motorcycle.

There is one difference, he doesn't have a "sizable fortune," so we just love him and leave him alone.

Dear Abby: Can She Recall Rumor She Started?

DEAR ABBY: I wish I were a Catholic. Then I could go to a priest and confess the terrible thing I did, and he would give me his blessings and I could sleep again.

I got mad at my girl friend and started a terrible rumor about her (I said she got pregnant and had an abortion). I had no idea it would spread the way it did until my own mother heard it and told me I couldn't go around with her anymore.

Now the girl refuses to go back to school in September because everybody in town is talking about her. And some girls won't even speak to her.

If I confessed to my mother, she'd tell me to keep my mouth shut because she wouldn't want anyone to know what a stinker I am. I want to make it up to this girl because she really isn't a bad girl. Could I run an ad in the newspaper and say I lied?

Liberalization Worries Kremlin

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

Stalinist habits, evidently durable among Soviet leaders, are emerging once again after the Soviet-Czechoslovak showdown. For Soviet citizens there is a chill in the air, reminiscent of cold war.

The palpable defeat of a Soviet effort to make reform-minded Czechoslovaks bend to Kremlin will seem to have provoked Communist party worries about its internal impact.

The Kremlin's somber mood and its fright at what Czechoslovakia might mean in the future come through in the latest issue of Kommunist, the Soviet theoretical journal, to reach this country. An article, apparently written for the edification of the Soviet Communists themselves rather than for anybody abroad, deals with "Vigilance—Weapon Against the Intrigues of Imperialism." It pictures Soviet citizens in danger from spies and provocateurs lurking everywhere, ready to pounce on the unwary and use them to undermine the system.

Soviet spy scares have been familiar fixtures through the cold war years. Each "vigilance" campaign has reflected Politburo worries on the home front. Clearly the current campaign is linked with Czechoslovak events. Referring to a bloc meeting on Czechoslovakia, the article said it "underscored the necessity of strengthening by all means the unity of parties and peoples" to protect the ramparts of Marxism-Leninism.

Kommunist warned against "ideological saboteurs" who were said to masquerade as "members of delegations, tourists, people traveling in our country on private business" and the like who, often, in reality, were out to propagandize the Western way of life. Such people, it said, can use international connections as "channels for infiltration into the U.S.S.R. of anti-Soviet and other hostile materials."

It pointed out that in recent years, Soviet contacts with the West expanded greatly, that many Soviet people now go abroad in various capacities: to conferences, to sport competitions, with tourists or theatrical groups. Foreign intelligence agents, notably Americans and West Germans, seek out Soviet citizens, it said, trying to play on human weakness and pry out state secrets, or enlist the unwary for ideological warfare.

"Special attention," it said, "is paid to scientists, engineers and other specialists taking part in scientific international congresses, symposia, expositions or conferences."

Today, the article instructed, the party must consider as one of its most important tasks a struggle against "ideological saboteurs," because "in the sphere of ideology there cannot be peaceful coexistence, as there cannot be class peace between the proletariat and the bourgeoisie." It added that "the security of the fatherland and the interests of the Soviet people constantly demand revolutionary vigilance."

YOUNG GARDENERS — Tracy (left) and Debbie Judd are pictured inspecting their uniquely built garden. Their hard work this summer has brought vegetables to the table as well as decorative flowers. Tracy grows flowers in the garden and Debbie grows vegetables.

August is now half over, with the heavy rains we had, the weeds will come very easy so on your knees and pull.

Kremlin Takes Hard Stand with Czechs

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin warned East Bloc nations through an article in Pravda today against establishing a multiparty system or otherwise allowing dissident elements to make their opposition felt.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper said this would endanger the Communist system and work toward the restoration of the prewar social order.

Pravda insisted Soviet-style communism must be retained all over Eastern Europe. A long attack on departures from this line was obviously aimed at Czechoslovakia, although no particular country was named.

Proposals have been made in Czechoslovakia during its liberalization drive for the authorization of additional parties and other institutions meant to make the government more subject to popular control.

The Bratislava Declaration Aug. 3 guaranteed all Communist parties the right to "consider national characteristics and conditions" in running their own affairs.

Pravda made clear that the Kremlin means this to be understood in only a very limited sense.

"None of the fundamental features of socialism (communism) can be removed without damaging its foundations," the paper maintained.

In Vienna, Austria, meanwhile, Romania's president and

Their dad, Howard Judd, boxed in an area and filled it with good rich soil and gave his daughters instruction on how to plant. Debbie and Tracy have produced a garden that can bring to the table a variety of vegetables and food for the soul in many flowers.

Debbie planted the vegetables that include two types of tomatoes, Big Boy and Marglobe. Radishes of a Chinese type that should weight about 15 lbs when fully developed. It is said that they are very sweet to the taste. Lettuce, carrots, beets, swiss chard, squash seeds that came from one of the prize winning Pumpkin Show squash. Broccoli, spinach, for the top part of the tiers.

Tracy took the bottom row and planted a rose bush, zinnias, cosmos, and marigolds that the seeds came from the famous Butchart Gardens of Canada. Her aunt had brought them back for her when she heard that the girls were gardening.

The Judds have a rose garden that has King's Ransom, World Fair Salute, Tropicanna, Bob Hope, Americana all having nice large buds and blooms. Trees abound and the name of their street is Mapleview in the Northwood Addition so that prompted them to plant maples in their front yard. The poplars are Lombardy's. Flowering trees have their places too, red bud, crab apple, tulips. Chinese elms will provide shade in a few years to come. Lilac bushes, iris, yews, and red petunias, with hollyhocks at the back keep all the Judds busy in their yard.

Mrs. M. S. Rineheart has a Euonymus hedge on the Northridge side of her Atwater Street home and it is giving a sign of the approaching fall season. There is a definite tinge of pink now and in a few weeks it will be a bright red.

The late historian Walter Prescott Webb called barbed wire the Industrial Revolution's "greatest contribution to the economic conquest of the Great Plains."

Soldier Succumbs To Crash Injuries

PANAMA (AP)—Airman I.C. Ronald F. Richards of Mount Vernon, Ohio, has died in Georgetown, Guyana, the ninth victim of a bus-train collision in the Canal Zone Aug. 7. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Richards.

Richards was one of 47 persons on an excursion bus which was returning sightseers from a moonlight cruise on the canal when it collided with a train.

An active separatist movement has persisted in Wales ever since Henry VIII welded it to England in 1536.

Ohio Demo Leaders Back Guaranteed Income, Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's two representatives on the Democratic National Platform Committee said Wednesday they want a guaranteed income for all Americans and jobs for those able to work.

John J. Gilligan, U.S. Senate aspirant and chairman of the local regional platform hearings endorsed the proposals put forward Monday by Mayor Carl B. Stokes in Cleveland.

Gertrude Donahey, the other Ohio member, agreed.

But Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner disagreed, declaring: "I don't go for a guaranteed annual wage. The government doesn't owe anybody a living."

He said the government did owe poor people the right of a good education and job opportunities so they can "pull themselves up by their bootstraps."

Sensenbrenner advised the party to adopt a platform which would bring about an "honorable peace as soon as possible to get our boys out of Vietnam."

Another Stokes' suggestion endorsed by Gilligan was an urban land bank under which the federal government would help cities buy and hold slum properties.

Mrs. Donahey said she and

Gilligan would meet later this week to compile a list of additional provisions they want in the platform.

The two delegates will be assigned to separate panels for three days of platform hearings next week in Washington where they will present the ideas of the Ohioans who appeared at the hearings in Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus.

Major Airport Congestion Eases in Most Regions

NEW YORK (AP)—Airport officials around the country generally report flight delays have been eased with the notable exception of some Chicago and New York flights to and from their cities.

The congestion which had been especially heavy at Kennedy Airport began to clear this week due to a combination of excellent weather, some flight rescheduling and an apparently let-up of a flight controllers' campaign.

"The situation has become a lot better than a couple of weeks ago," one airline dispatcher at Kennedy said, and most officials contacted in a nationwide Associated Press survey agreed.

Free reported any locally caused flight delays but some said arrivals from New York and Chicago were up to several hours late at times and departures for the same points were sometimes held up awaiting route clearances.

Skies over Kennedy Airport began to get crowded in early July after an air traffic controllers' organization announced that it was going to "follow the book" and strictly enforce Federal Aviation Administration safety rules.

Declaring that its men were overworked but that it intended "to protect the public against unnecessary air hazards," the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization said it would

Pedestrian Deaths Under Scrutiny

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Nearly half the 19 pedestrians who died in Milwaukee traffic accidents during the first seven months of 1968 had been drinking, the city Safety Commission said Wednesday.

The commission said it was not specifically listing alcoholic beverage as the primary cause of the deaths. Of the nine victims who had been drinking, most were older than 50, and most were injured at night, it said.

10 Orphans Hope Judge Will Keep Them Together

MADERA, Calif. (AP)—The 10 Morris orphans will find out Friday if their wish to remain together in Madera as a family will be granted.

The children, who have received 100 offers of adoption and contributions of $50,000 from throughout the world, will be given a permanent guardian then by Madera County Superior Court Judge Jack Hammerberg. On Tuesday, he declared them wards of the court.

They were orphaned July 2 when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Morris, were killed in a head-on auto crash on U.S. 99 near Fresno. He was a $480-a-month manager of a chain shoe store and she cooked in a convent for $20 a week.

"Don't let them separate us, don't let us be taken apart," Kathy, the eldest at 17, pleaded when informed of the crash.

Policeman Asks Rhodes To Oust Stokes as Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP)—A police academy instructor of firearms and riot control training said Wednesday he has submitted an affidavit to Gov. James A. Rhodes citing reasons why Mayor Carl B. Stokes should be removed from office.

Sgt. Louis E. Bors said in his 10-page affidavit he used a little-known state law that allows the governor to remove public officials from office if there is valid evidence against them.

Bors, a 16-year veteran, said one of his examples of the administration's inability to cope with problems which lead to the July 23 sniper shooting was Stokes' march with black nationalists three days before the disturbance started.

The July 20 march observed the deaths of four Negroes killed during the 1966 Hough riots. Ten persons were killed, including three policemen, during the July 23 shootings.

"Why is everyone so shook up?" Linda, 15, asked later. "God gave us a wonderful mother and father. What makes them think He has forgotten us now?"

An uncle, Eugene Lachawicz of Fresno, filed a $500,000 suit Wednesday on behalf of the children, naming the driver of the other car, Clifford Salmon of Porterville, Calif., as principal defendant.

Since the accident the children—six girls and four boys ranging in age from 3 to 17—have been cared for by their maternal grandparents, with the help of a priest.

The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bolis Lachawicz, in their 60s, have filed an application for guardianship. Another was filed by a paternal aunt, Mrs. Gertrude Graves of Concord, Calif.

Meanwhile, the Bank of America branch in Madera, which is holding the contributions, said it will ask court permission to set up a trust which it will administer without charge.

After their parents' death, the children turned to the Rev. Salvatore Bentivegna, known to his parishioners as Father Sam.

"Father Sam, don't let them separate us," Kathy pleaded. Neighbors provided food and

Lockbourne Holds Contest For Area Kids

If you are between the ages of seven and 13 years old and live in the Circleville area you are eligible to be a "Kid Commander" at Lockbourne AFB Sept. 29.

Interested youngsters should write a letter to: Kid Commander Contest, Office of Information, Lockbourne AFB, Ohio 43217 and explain why you would like to be a kid commander.

The contest will end midnight Sept. 6. Winners will be selected by the Kiwanis Club planning committee for the Air Force-Kiwanis Club Kids Day open house at Lockbourne.

To enter you must be between ages 7-13. The letter should include full name, address, age, telephone number and parents' name of the youngster applying. There are eight command positions open. They include transport commander, tanker commander, fire chief, base commander, police chief, guard commander and chief nurse.

Winners will be introduced to their real life counterparts and will also get to personally meet the world famous aerial demonstration team, the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds.

"An entire afternoon of family enjoyment is planned and open to the public from noon to 5 p.m.," said Captain William H. Johnson, base information officer. Air Force transports, tankers and the newly equipped gunships will be on display in addition to the mid-afternoon Thunderbird show.

The Thunderbirds have performed before more than 70 million spectators in over 40 countries. They last appeared at Lockbourne in August 1966 to a crowd of 40,000.

Gilligan would meet later this week to compile a list of additional provisions they want in the platform.

The two delegates will be assigned to separate panels for three days of platform hearings next week in Washington where they will present the ideas of the Ohioans who appeared at the hearings in Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus.

Fifteen witnesses testified during the four - and - one-half hour hearing here Wednesday.

Uruguay Rites Held For Student

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Thousands of Uruguayans paid homage today to a student slain in antigovernment riots, underlining growing opposition to President Jorge Pacheco Arce.

The 400,000-member National Convention of Labor called a nationwide 24-hour strike to honor Liber Arce, 29-year-old national university student who died Wednesday of bullet wounds suffered during a riot Monday. The stoppage was called in defiance of a presidential ban on strikes.

The administration, shaken by the mounting opposition, announced that it would permit a funeral demonstration today for Arce. The government closed high schools until further notice, and university students cut classes in preparation for the campus funeral for Arce, who they claimed was a victim of police bullets.

At least 10,000 mourners lined up outside the university's main hall Wednesday night as Arce's body was brought there to lie in state. Thousands more converged on the building during the night. Floral wreaths filled the hall.

Police did not interfere although they maintained a guard at a discreet distance.

Major Airport Congestion Eases in Most Regions

NEW YORK (AP)—Airport officials around the country generally report flight delays have been eased with the notable exception of some Chicago and New York flights to and from their cities.

The congestion which had been especially heavy at Kennedy Airport began to clear this week due to a combination of excellent weather, some flight rescheduling and an apparently let-up of a flight controllers' campaign.

"The situation has become a lot better than a couple of weeks ago," one airline dispatcher at Kennedy said, and most officials contacted in a nationwide Associated Press survey agreed.

Few reported any locally caused flight delays but some said arrivals from New York and Chicago were up to several hours late at times and departures for the same points were sometimes held up awaiting route clearances.

Skies over Kennedy Airport began to get crowded in early July after an air traffic controllers' organization announced that it was going to "follow the book" and strictly enforce Federal Aviation Administration safety rules.

Declaring that its men were overworked but that it intended "to protect the public against unnecessary air hazards," the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization said it would

Pedestrian Deaths Under Scrutiny

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Nearly half the 19 pedestrians who died in Milwaukee traffic accidents during the first seven months of 1968 had been drinking, the city Safety Commission said Wednesday.

The commission said it was not specifically listing alcoholic beverage as the primary cause of the deaths. Of the nine victims who had been drinking, most were older than 50, and most were injured at night, it said.

10 Orphans Hope Judge Will Keep Them Together

MADERA, Calif. (AP)—The 10 Morris orphans will find out Friday if their wish to remain together in Madera as a family will be granted.

The children, who have received 100 offers of adoption and contributions of $50,000 from throughout the world, will be given a permanent guardian then by Madera County Superior Court Judge Jack Hammerberg. On Tuesday, he declared them wards of the court.

They were orphaned July 2 when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Morris, were killed in a head-on auto crash on U.S. 99 near Fresno. He was a $480-a-month manager of a chain shoe store and she cooked in a convent for $20 a week.

"Don't let them separate us, don't let us be taken apart," Kathy, the eldest at 17, pleaded when informed of the crash.

"Why is everyone so shook up?" Linda, 15, asked later. "God gave us a wonderful mother and father. What makes them think He has forgotten us now?"

An uncle, Eugene Lachawicz of Fresno, filed a $500,000 suit Wednesday on behalf of the children, naming the driver of the other car, Clifford Salmon of Porterville, Calif., as principal defendant.

Policeman Asks Rhodes To Oust Stokes as Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP)—A police academy instructor of firearms and riot control training said Wednesday he has submitted an affidavit to Gov. James A. Rhodes citing reasons why Mayor Carl B. Stokes should be removed from office.

Sgt. Louis E. Bors said in his 10-page affidavit he used a little-known state law that allows the governor to remove public officials from office if there is valid evidence against them.

Bors, a 16-year veteran, said one of his examples of the administration's inability to cope with problems which led to the July 23 sniper shooting was Stokes' march with black nationalists three days before the disturbance started.

The July 20 march observed the deaths of four Negroes killed during the 1966 Hough riots. Ten persons were killed, including three policemen, during the July 23 shootings.

All-Stars Take Ashville Tourney

The Circleville Little League All-Stars swept a twinbill from Teays Valley Gold team, 6-4 and 4-1, to take top honors in the Teays Valley Tournament Wednesday.

Trailing 3-2 after five innings in the first game, the All-Stars marked four runs in the top of the sixth to win. The Stars had to win the first game to force a playoff with Teays Valley. In the title tilt, Circleville scored four in the bottom of the first and Teays Valley never recovered.

Keith Hoop pitched the first game for the All-Stars, walking two, fanning six and allowing eight hits. Glitt and Lambert worked for the losers, striking out four without a walk and scattering seven hits.

Randy Thomas homered and doubled for the new champs. Perry Hoskins socked a pair of doubles and John Ankrom and Rock Davis doubled for the winners.

Lambert tripled and Haines and Derr doubled for Teays Valley.

The All-Stars blasted 10 hits in the championship game, including Mike Speakman's double, Rock Davis' home run, walking one, fanning seven and allowing four hits.

Glitt and Beatty combined to split mound duties for Teays Valley, issuing three walks, fanning five and allowing 10 hits. Lambert tripled for Teays Valley.

Manager Speeder Davis said the boys played "pretty good ball" and were "real excited." Trophies were passed out after the second game.

Friday the All-Stars return to the Chillicothe Tournament when they meet Pierce and Hearn Electric at 6 p.m.

PGA Player Revolt Seen An Impasse

NEW YORK (AP) — The dispute between the Professional Golfers Association and the tournament professionals appeared to be at an impasse today, but PGA officials are keeping the door open for further negotiations.

The players broke with the PGA earlier this week when they announced that they would form an organization independent of the PGA at the end of existing tournament contracts. The tour involves $5.6 million.

Gardner Dickinson Jr., chairman of the Players Tournament Committee, said Wednesday he felt a limit had been reached in negotiations.

However, Max Elbin, PGA president, said, "I don't believe the PGA position has been fairly presented to the players. We would like to appear before a meeting of all the men so that we can present the facts of the case. I don't believe—when the issues are aired—that the situation is irreconcilable."

The players, though, are showing no inclination to bend. They are seeking greater control of the tour. Officially, the players were reported to have told the various sponsors they would compete in the same tourneys as this year.

"The PGA knows what we want and has refused to budge," Dickinson said. "I honestly wish that we could get together, but it doesn't appear possible."

In Washington, William Rogers, attorney for the PGA, said the door is open for negotiation. He said his client's position consisted of two points:

1. That the PGA tour must be jointly shared by the players and the PGA.
 2. That the tour must be administered in a serious, businesslike way.
- The 16-man PGA executive committee has called an emergency meeting Friday at the national headquarters in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. Tournament sponsors have been summoned to a meeting in Houston, Sept. 5-6.

Royal J. Win Places in 7th

Forest Short reigned his Royal J. Win to a second place finish in the seventh race at Scioto Downs Wednesday.

The seven-year-old bay gelding returned $3.20 and $2.80 to backers. Winner by two lengths was Tiger Lily Lobell in 2:04 3-5.

Jim Arledge drove Bob and Marietta Callihan's Jaynes Broom to eighth in the first race. Josedale Pennywin, owned by Robert Layton of Orient, was eighth in the second.

Short took his Golden Mary to fifth place in the third race. The daily double ticket of Nancy's Pal and Bonny Do (3-5) paid $24.20, and the ninth race quinella of Josedale Highness and Sharon Beau (4-7) paid $35.10.

Rain Postpones Legion Tourney

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Rain postponed all but one game in the state American Legion baseball tournament Wednesday.

In the only completed game, Elyria's Bill Bullock pitched a two-hitter to eliminate Findlay 5-0.

Rain caused that game to be called in the bottom of the seventh inning after Elyria scored its final run on a single by Don Kowaleski and a double by Jim Coleman.

Mosquito League Holds Twinbill

Lolich and Tigers Flatten Cleveland, 3-0

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer Mayo Smith has a perfect put-down for those American League die-hards who keep trying to twist his Tigers by the tail. The Detroit skipper simply reaches into his new bullpen bag and slips them a quick Mickey.

Mickey Lolich, who could finish what he started a month ago, hurled 5-2-3 innings of scoreless relief Wednesday night and picked up his fourth victory in nine days as the first place Tigers flattened Cleveland 3-0.

The swift southpaw scattered three hits and struck out five in his longest relief stint since Smith sent him to the bullpen in late July. He has defeated Cleveland and Boston twice and each for an 11-7 season mark and has not given up a run in 15 innings, beginning Aug. 6.

In beating the Indians for the sixth time in seven games over a nine-day stretch, the Tigers regained a seven-game lead over the second place Baltimore Orioles, who bowed to Oakland 4-1.

Elsewhere, Washington topped Minnesota on two homers by Frank Howard; Boston split a day-night doubleheader with Chicago, winning the second game 7-5 on Ken Harrelson's slugging after losing 5-3 in the afternoon, and New York whipped California 5-2.

Lolich replaced Joe Sparrma in the fourth inning at Cleveland with the Tigers leading 1-0 on Bill Freehan's 18th homer. He stranded two runners and then stymied the Indians until the eighth, when a double play and center fielder Mickey Stanley's

Jimmy Rosette Tops Hernandez

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Unranked Jimmy Rosette of San Diego, Calif., scored a stunning upset Wednesday night over the World Boxing Association's No. 5 middleweight contender Ferd Hernandez of Las Vegas. Rosette, announced at 163½ pounds, was an underdog, but he scored a unanimous 10-round victory. Judge Mike Petrovich scored it 49-44, Art Lurie 49-43 and Ralph Mosa 50-42.

Hernandez, 165, inactive recently, was consistently beaten to the punch by the southpaw.

"I started walking to the dug-out," Lolich said. "When I looked up Stanley was still going back and the ball hadn't come down yet. I started to worry and kept right on walking, because if it's over the fence I'm out of the game anyway...and I might as well watch from the bench."

Freehan connected against Cleveland ace Luis Tiant, 18-8, in the second and the Tigers added two runs in the sixth on Al Kaline's double, Gates Brown's single and a triple by Norm Cash.

Reggie Jackson smacked his 21st homer—a two-run sixth inning shot—to power the Athletics past Baltimore. Bert Campaneris, who hit safely in his 12th straight game, capped a two-run wrapup burst with a sacrifice fly in the seventh.

Montreal Now in NL

MONTREAL (AP) — A historic first dent in the hitherto solid American major leagues of baseball occurred in a smoke-filled downtown Montreal hotel room Wednesday when Montreal officially became a member of the National League.

"Montreal is now a full-fledged member of the league," said NL President Warren Giles. With these words, the city became the first outside of the United States to be admitted to the majors.

Club sponsors made the first payment of the franchise fee, a club president was appointed along with a general manager, former prime minister Lester Pearson was named honorary team president, two new backers were added to the sponsors' group and three scouts were named to the Montreal team in developments announced at a huge news conference.

"I believe Montreal is a vibrant city," Giles said after receiving a check for $1,120,000 as Montreal's first payment of the $10,000,000 franchise fee.

second on Ken McMullen's tap before Howard unloaded his 34th homer of the season.

Harrelson slugged a solo homer in the day game at Boston. But the White Sox won it with a 15-hit attack while the Red Sox wasted 11 against winner Tommy John.

The Red Sox's slugger took charge under the lights, banging a double, triple and a two-run homer, his 32nd of the year. After the White Sox cut Boston's lead to 6-5 with a four-run seventh inning rally, Harrelson doubled, stole third and scored the insurance run on an over-throw by catcher Duane Josephson.

The Yankees surged to a 5-0 lead with the help of Bill Robinson's homer and a two-run single by Horace Clarke, then held off the Angels for a sweep of the three-game series. Reliever Steve Hamilton checked a two-run California rally in the eighth, protecting the victory for rookie Stan Bahnsen.

All-Stars Take Ashville Tourney

The Circleville Little League All-Stars swept a twinbill from Teays Valley Gold team, 6-4 and 4-1, to take top honors in the Teays Valley Tournament Wednesday.

Trailing 3-2 after five innings in the first game, the All-Stars marked four runs in the top of the sixth to win. The Stars had to win the first game to force a playoff with Teays Valley. In the title tilt, Circleville scored four in the bottom of the first and Teays Valley never recovered.

Keith Hoop pitched the first game for the All-Stars, walking two, fanning six and allowing eight hits. Glitt and Lambert worked for the losers, striking out four without a walk and scattering seven hits.

Randy Thomas homered and doubled for the new champs. Perry Hoskins socked a pair of doubles and John Ankrom and Rock Davis doubled for the winners.

LAMBERT tripled and Haines and Derr doubled for Teays Valley.

The All-Stars blasted 10 hits in the championship game, including Mike Speakman's double, Rock Davis hurled the win, walking one, fanning seven and allowing four hits.

Glitt and Beatty combined to split mound duties for Teays Valley, issuing three walks, fanning five and allowing 10 hits. Lambert tripled for Teays Valley.

Manager Speeder Davis said the boys played "pretty good ball" and were "real excited." Trophies were passed out after the second game.

Friday the All-Stars return to the Chillicothe Tournament when they meet Pierce and Hearls Electric at 6 p.m.

PGA Player Revolt Seen An Impasse

NEW YORK (AP) — The dispute between the Professional Golfers Association and the tournament professionals appeared to be at an impasse today, but PGA officials are keeping the door open for further negotiations.

The players broke with the PGA earlier this week when they announced that they would form an organization independent of the PGA at the end of existing tournament contracts. The tour involves $5.6 million.

Gardner Dickinson Jr., chairman of the Players' Tournament Committee, said Wednesday he felt a limit had been reached in negotiations.

However, Max Elbin, PGA president, said, "I don't believe the PGA position has been fairly presented to the players. We would like to appear before a meeting of all the men so that we can present the facts of the case. I don't believe—when the issues are aired—that the situation is irreconcilable."

The players, though, are showing no inclination to bend. They are seeking greater control of the tour. Officially, the players were reported to have told the various sponsors they would compete in the same tourneys as this year.

"The PGA knows what we want and has refused to budge," Dickinson said. "I honestly wish that we could get together, but it doesn't appear possible."

In Washington, William Rogers, attorney for the PGA, said the door is open for negotiation. He said his client's position consisted of two points:

1. That the PGA tour must be jointly shared by the players and the PGA.

2. That the tour must be administered in a serious, businesslike way.

The 16-man PGA executive committee has called an emergency meeting Friday at the national headquarters in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. Tournament sponsors have been summoned to a meeting in Houston, Sept. 5-6.

Lolich and Tigers Flatten Cleveland, 3-0

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Mayo Smith has a perfect put-down for those American League die-hards who keep trying to twist his Tigers by the tail. The Detroit skipper simply reaches into his new bullpen bag and slips them a quick Mickey.

Mickey Lolich, who could finish what he started a month ago, hurled 5-2-3 innings of scoreless relief Wednesday night and picked up his fourth victory in nine days as the first place Tigers flattened Cleveland 3-0.

The swift southpaw scattered three hits and struck out five in his longest relief stint since Smith sent him to the bullpen in late July. He has defeated Cleveland and Boston twice and each for an 11-7 season mark and has not given up a run in 15 innings, beginning Aug. 6.

In beating the Indians for the sixth time in seven games over a nine-day stretch, the Tigers regained a seven-game lead over the second place Baltimore Orioles, who bowed to Oakland 4-1.

Elsewhere, Washington topped Minnesota on two homers by Frank Howard; Boston split a day-night doubleheader with Chicago, winning the second game 7-5 on Ken Harrelson's slugging after losing 5-3 in the afternoon, and New York whipped California 5-2.

Lolich replaced Joe Spina in the fourth inning at Cleveland with the Tigers leading 1-0 on Bill Freehan's 18th homer. He stranded two runners and then stymied the Indians until the eighth, when a double play and center fielder Mickey Stanley's running, one-hand grab of a drive by Vern Fuller saved him from a possible knockout.

"I started walking to the dug-out," Lolich said. "When I looked up Stanley was still going back and the ball hadn't come down yet. I started to worry and kept right on walking, because if it's over the fence I'm out of the game anyway...and I might as well watch from the bench."

Freehan connected against Cleveland ace Luis Tiant, 18-8, in the second and the Tigers added two runs in the sixth on Al Kaline's double, Gates Brown's single and a triple by Norm Cash.

Reggie Jackson smacked his 21st homer—a two-run sixth inning shot—to power the Athletics past Baltimore. Bert Campaneris, who hit safely in his 12th straight game, capped a two-run wrapup burst with a sacrifice fly in the seventh.

Howard, who had homered earlier with the bases empty, drilled a 450-foot blast following two Minnesota errors in the ninth to carry the Senators from behind. Ron Clark booted Bernie Allen's grounder and Rod Carew made a wild throw to second on Ken McMullen's tap before Howard unloaded his 34th homer of the season.

Harrelson slugged a solo homer in the day game at Boston. But the White Sox won it with a 15-hit attack while the Red Sox wasted 11 against winner Tommy John.

The Red Sox's slugger took charge under the lights, banging a double, triple and a two-run homer, his 32nd of the year. After the White Sox cut Boston's lead to 6-5 with a four-run seventh inning rally, Harrelson doubled, stole third and scored the insurance run on an over-throw by catcher Duane Josephson.

The Yankees surged to a 5-0 lead with the help of Bill Robinson's homer and a two-run single by Horace Clarke, then held off the Angels for a sweep of the three-game series. Reliever Steve Hamilton checked a two-run California rally in the eighth, protecting the victory for rookie Stan Bahnsen.

Girl Leads Plea for Biafran Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — "And a little child shall lead them." That phrase from Biblical prophecy—Isaiah 11:6—is the idea behind a trip planned today for a little girl in behalf of the starving children of embattled Biafra, in the eastern sector of Nigeria.

Melanie Nix, 9, is going to see the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, in London, and then to Rome, to try to see Pope Paul VI, to urge their help sponsors said.

"She's going as a representative of all children, both the healthy and the dying," said Paul Connitt, chairman of the Committee to Keep Biafra Alive. "We hope that she'll be received and listened to."

He added that "too many leaders have been quiet" about the mass starvation of Biafran children "and we hope that the appeal of a child may be given some importance."

"If we've come to the time when a child isn't considered important, then it's a sad thing," he said.

The committee is a nonsectarian organization seeking to gather relief supplies to be channeled through facilities of church and other voluntary agencies.

It is urging observance this Sunday of an "International Day of Sorrow and Hope"—Sorrow for children who have died and hope for those still living.

Churches were urged to hold special services and ring their bells on the hours.

"If the bells ring now with new hope, then they won't have to toll later for death," Connitt said. A telegram was sent to President Johnson asking him to proclaim the day, and to order flags kept at half staff.

As part of the observance, the committee also appealed to Americans to keep a light burning in all apartments and homes throughout this Sunday night symbolizing the motto: "Don't

the inner city are perpetuating a misconception," McCarthy said in Washington. "The fact is that private industry has almost never built low-cost housing for low-income families."

Humphrey issued a new call for an "open convention" Wednesday in what aides said would be the surest road to Democratic unity later. But Alard Lowenstein, a leader of a group of anti-Vietnam war policy Democrats, protested they were being denied even peripheral participation at the convention.

Both Humphrey and McGovern, meanwhile, called for elimination of traditional floor demonstrations at the Democratic convention in Chicago starting Aug. 26. Humphrey called the demonstrations "phony"; McGovern called them "boring."

Southern Democratic party leaders have announced plans to support one of seven men for the vice presidential nomination, suggesting the move would unite the South behind the Democrats' national ticket.

Their list includes Govs. John Connally of Texas, Buford Ellington of Tennessee, John McKeithen of Louisiana and Robert McNair of South Carolina; former Govs. Carl Sanders of Georgia and Terry Sanford of North Carolina, and Sen. George Smathers of Florida.

Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace returns to the campaign trail with stops at Hammond, Ind., Friday and Fort Wayne, Ind., Saturday after five days at home.

Ceauescu, Czech Leaders Renew Pact

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Prague gave an enthusiastic welcome today to Romanian Communist party chief Nicolae Ceausescu, the third man on the Soviet bloc's new Belgrade-Prague-Bucharest axis.

Ceausescu came to renew the treaty of friendship and mutual assistance between Romania and Czechoslovakia, a formality which took on special meaning because he has sided with the new liberal leaders of the Czechoslovak Communist party in their resistance to Moscow's pressure to reverse their course.

Ceausescu, who is also Romania's president, emphasized his support of Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek and his colleagues by bringing with him the most important members of his regime: Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer; Deputy Premier Emil Bodnarus; Deputy President Gheorghe Apostol; Virgil Trofin, Trade Union Council chairman; Gheorghe Stoica, a secretary of the party central committee, and Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu.

The Romanian leader was Czechoslovakia's third major visitor within a week. First came Yugoslav President Tito, the other Communist chief executive who spoke out for the Czechoslovaks' right to decide their own course and the pioneer rebel against Kremlin domination. He was followed by Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's Stalinist party chief and one of the most militant opponents of the new leaders in Prague.

Ceausescu had another warning Wednesday for the Kremlin and its orthodox Communist allies, still carrying on military maneuvers in East Germany and elsewhere along their borders with Czechoslovakia.

The Romanian leader told graduates of the Bucharest Military School: "There can be no justification for the use of armed forces for intervention in the internal affairs of any of the Warsaw Treaty member countries."

let the lights go out for Biafran children."

Melanie, of South Amboy, N.J., is scheduled to leave Kennedy airport for London by British Overseas Airline tonight, accompanied by a guardian, after a news conference.

Among her objectives is to enlist the support of the church leaders in observance to the day, and to persuade Pope Paul to visit the United Nations in behalf of the Biafran children as part of his trip to Bogota, Columbia, Aug. 22-24.

"It was her own idea to go to the Pope," Connitt said. "She comes from a very religious family and she's very articulate. We just picked her from a lot of little kids we have working around here."

She was among children active in a "Life Line" service near the United Nations about a week ago, in which people brought canned goods and food-stuffs for shipment to Biafra. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Nix, of South Amboy.

'Skip' Humphrey, Michael Reagan Cross Paths

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Hubert "Skip" Humphrey and Michael Reagan, sons of noted politicians, crossed paths by chance Wednesday and exchanged a bit of small talk.

Humphrey, 26, said of the enthusiasm which marks his Democratic presidential candidate father, "I guess it's just in the old man. He is happy. He likes things. He likes politics and let's face it, it's not the world's worst occupation."

Reagan, 23, whose mother is Jane Wyman and whose father is governor of California, said: "My sister's in politics. My father's in politics. I think that's enough in the family."

Reagan was here as a salesman for a chain saw manufacturer while Humphrey was campaigning among businessmen for support for his father.

Meteorite Stolen From Museum

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Missing: One meteorite valued at $5,000.

The "Basket Meteorite," so-called because it is shaped like a basket with a handle has been stolen from the museum at Meteor Crater near Flagstaff.

The Coconino County sheriff's office issued a nationwide bulletin for its recovery.

Nixon, Agnew Both Plan Ohio Visits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans will have a chance to see the Republican presidential and vice presidential candidates here next week.

Gov. James A. Rhodes announced Wednesday that Richard M. Nixon will be here Monday and Tuesday, and that Spiro T. Agnew is tentatively scheduled to visit Saturday, Aug. 24.

The two candidates are coming to meet Rhodes and the state's other Republican leaders, to plan the party's Ohio campaign for the Nov. 5 election.

Spokesmen at Republican headquarters said Nixon will arrive at Port Columbus Airport Monday at 6 p.m. A rally and public reception will be held at the airport.

Nixon will meet Rhodes Tuesday morning and leave before noon for Harrisburg, Pa.

The details of Agnew's visit have not yet been worked out.

Columbus Seeks 1992 Olympics

CHICAGO (AP) — President Avery Brundage of the International Olympic Committee disclosed Wednesday that Columbus, Ohio, has applied for the 1992 Olympic Games in a year marking the 500th anniversary of America's discovery by Christopher Columbus.

Brundage wrote Mayor M.E. Sensenbrenner commending him and the City Council of Columbus "for your enterprise in recording the first application for these games."

A resolution adopted by Council pointed out Columbus is the largest city in the nation named after the famous explorer and urged all civic, business and neighborhood groups to back plans to host the 1992 games.

Girl Leads Plea for Biafran Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — "And a little child shall lead them." That phrase from Biblical prophecy—Isaiah 11:6—is the idea behind a trip planned today for a little girl in behalf of the starving children of embattled Biafra, in the eastern sector of Nigeria.

Melanie Nix, 9, is going to see the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, in London, and then to Rome, to try to see Pope Paul VI, to urge their help sponsors said.

"She's going as a representative of all children, both the healthy and the dying," said Paul Connett, chairman of the Committee to Keep Biafra Alive. "We hope that she'll be received and listened to."

He added that "too many leaders have been quiet" about the mass starvation of Biafran children "and we hope that the appeal of a child may be given some importance."

"If we've come to the time when a child isn't considered important, then it's a sad thing," he said.

The committee is a nonsectarian organization seeking to gather relief supplies to be channeled through facilities of church and other voluntary agencies.

It is urging observance this Sunday of an "International Day of Sorrow and Hope"—Sorrow for children who have died and hope for those still living. Churches were urged to hold special services and ring their bells on the hours.

"If the bells ring now with new hope, then they won't have to toll later for death," Connett said. A telegram was sent to President Johnson asking him to proclaim the day, and to order flags kept at half staff.

As part of the observance, the committee also appealed to Americans to keep a light burning in all apartments and homes throughout this Sunday night symbolizing the motto: "Don't the inner city are perpetuating a misconception," McCarthy said in Washington. "The fact is that private industry has almost never built low-cost housing for low-income families."

Humphrey issued a new call for an "open convention" Wednesday in what aides said would be the surest road to Democratic unity later. But Alard Lowenstein, a leader of a group of anti-Vietnam war policy Democrats, protested they were being denied even peripheral participation at the convention.

Both Humphrey and McGovern, meanwhile, called for elimination of traditional floor demonstrations at the Democratic convention in Chicago starting Aug. 26. Humphrey called the demonstrations "phony," McGovern called them "boring."

Southern Democratic party leaders have announced plans to support one of seven men for the vice presidential nomination, suggesting the move would unite the South behind the Democrats' national ticket.

Their list includes Govs. John Connally of Texas, Buford Ellington of Tennessee, John McKeithen of Louisiana and Robert McNair of South Carolina; former Govs. Carl Sanders of Georgia and Terry Sanford of North Carolina, and Sen. George Smathers of Florida.

Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace returns to the campaign trail with stops at Hammond, Ind., Friday and Fort Wayne, Ind., Saturday after five days at home.

Ceausescu, Czech Leaders Renew Pact

Romanian Chief Backing Prague Liberalization

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Prague gave an enthusiastic welcome today to Romanian Communist party chief Nicolae Ceausescu, the third man on the Soviet bloc's new Belgrade-Prague-Bucharest axis.

Ceausescu came to renew the treaty of friendship and mutual assistance between Romania and Czechoslovakia, a formality which took on special meaning because he has sided with the new liberal leaders of the Czechoslovak Communist party in their resistance to Moscow's pressure to reverse their course.

Ceausescu, who is also Romania's president, emphasized his support of Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek and his colleagues by bringing with him the most important members of his regime: Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer; Deputy Premier Emil Bodnarus; Deputy President Gheorghe Apostol; Virgil Trofin, Trade Union Council chairman; Gheorghe Stoica, a secretary of the party central committee, and Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu.

The Romanian leader was Czechoslovakia's third major visitor within a week. First came Yugoslav President Tito, the other Communist chief executive who spoke out for the Czechoslovaks' right to decide their own course and the pioneer rebel against Kremlin domination. He was followed by Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's Stalinist party chief and one of the most militant opponents of the new leaders in Prague.

Ceausescu had another warning Wednesday for the Kremlin and its orthodox Communist allies, still carrying on military maneuvers in East Germany and elsewhere along their borders with Czechoslovakia.

let the lights go out for Biafran children."

Melanie, of South Amboy, N.J., is scheduled to leave Kennedy airport for London by British Overseas Airline tonight, accompanied by a guardian, after a news conference.

Among her objectives is to enlist the support of the church leaders in observance to the day, and to persuade Pope Paul to visit the United Nations in behalf of the Biafran children as part of his trip to Bogota, Colombia, Aug. 22-24.

"It was her own idea to go to the Pope," Connett said. "She comes from a very religious family and she's very articulate. We just picked her from a

Nixon, Agnew Both Plan Ohio Visits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans will have a chance to see the Republican presidential and vice presidential candidates here next week.

Gov. James A. Rhodes announced Wednesday that Richard M. Nixon will be here Monday and Tuesday, and that Spiro T. Agnew is tentatively scheduled to visit Saturday, Aug. 24.

The two candidates are coming to meet Rhodes and the state's other Republican leaders, to plan the party's Ohio campaign for the Nov. 5 election.

Spokesmen at Republican headquarters said Nixon will arrive at Port Columbus Airport Monday at 6 p.m. A rally and public reception will be held at the airport.

Nixon will meet Rhodes Tuesday morning and leave before noon for Harrisburg, Pa.

The details of Agnew's visit have not yet been worked out.

'Skip' Humphrey, Michael Reagan Cross Paths

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Hubert "Skip" Humphrey and Michael Reagan, sons of noted politicians, crossed paths by chance Wednesday and exchanged a bit of small talk.

Humphrey, 26, said of the enthusiasm which marks his Democratic presidential candidate father, "I guess it's just in the old man. He is happy. He likes things. He likes politics and let's face it, it's not the world's worst occupation."

Reagan, 23, whose mother is Jane Wyman and whose father is governor of California, said: "My sister's in politics. My father's in politics. I think that's enough in the family."

Reagan was here as a salesman for a chain saw manufacturer while Humphrey was campaigning among businessmen for support for his father.

Columbus Seeks 1992 Olympics

CHICAGO (AP) — President Avery Brundage of the International Olympic Committee disclosed Wednesday that Columbus, Ohio, has applied for the 1992 Olympic Games in a year marking the 500th anniversary of America's discovery by Christopher Columbus.

Brundage wrote Mayor M.E. Sensenbrenner commending him and the City Council of Columbus "for your enterprise in recording the first application for these games."

A resolution adopted by Council pointed out Columbus is the largest city in the nation named after the famous explorer and urged all civic, business and neighborhood groups to back plans to host the 1992 games.
